Reduction in service to veterans

A move by the Illinois Veterans Commission to close its office in the city hall here except for one day each week will be protested to Governor Dan Walker, City Council members decided in a regular meeting Monday night.

The council was notified by John J. Houlihan, administrator of the state commission, that the Granite City offices of the commission will be closed July 15 because of budget cutbacks by the state.

Houlihan asked the city for permission to retain use of the office on a one-day-per-week basis.

Houlihan said the Alton office of the Illinois Veterans Commission will remain open and that a staff member from there would service the Granite City office one day each week.

Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward objected that many persons use the commission office here to obtain guidance and information concerning a variety of veteran benefit programs and that its closing would work a hardship on those requiring such service.

"I think the governor is being real chintzy about this," Dawes said. "We provide free rent for the office and they only have one staff member here."

Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward said he agreed that the office served a large

Court jammed after call back

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

The lobby of the Granite City Hall and much of the third floor balcony were filled at 2 p.m. Monday with persons who had been summoned for a court appearance date for traffic or misdemeanor violations.

Due to a "lack of communications" between the courts and the Granite City Police Department, word that the violations would be divided into two court appearance dates during July was not communicated to police on the street who ordered everyone to appear Monday, between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Since April, the Third Judicial Circuit Court has reduced the number of days for first appearance on traffic and misdemeanor cases in Granite City to one per month.

The court also reduced the number of judges serving areas other than Edwardsville.

Both moves were attempts to make judges available only when they were needed and not to have them "waste their time" here or elsewhere "waiting for walk-in trade," according to a court official.

The court designated the first Monday of each month as the appearance date for traffic and misdemeanor cases in Granite City, but the large number of cases scheduled for that date became a problem for court officials who then set a second appearance date for July 14.

A court official said the Granite City court clerk and Chief of Police Ronald Veizer were notified of the second date, but the word was not passed on to the officers in the street, who put the one appearance date on tickets and on notices to appear in court, it was alleged.

Veizer said Tuesday he had not been informed of a second court date. He said the court since May has informed him only to have the officers tell persons to come to court the first Monday of each month.

"We have not had any real problems. The courtroom has been crowded, but they have been run right through," Veizer commented.

The appearance dates are only for persons to plead guilty or innocent to the charges and to be either fined or put on the court docket for a trial or hearing, it was explained.

There actually were two long lines of persons had to stand in Monday—one to get into the courtroom and another pay fine.

Court officials said the problem should be corrected next month as Aug. 4 and Aug. 11 have been set for appearance dates and a third day will be added, if the case load is heavy. "We anticipate we will go to two days every month now," a spokesman said.

A problem which will not be corrected so easily is the shortage of judges, particularly in Granite City.

An associate judge formerly was stationed daily in Granite City to set bond for prisoners, to sign warrants and complaints and to hear any cases which may come before him.

Recently, the court revised its schedule for judges, leaving one assigned to Granite City only on Mondays, Tuesdays and on Wednesday mornings. Judges could be called at other times when they were needed, the court official explained.

That system upset some police officers, but the system broke down further as the number of judges available decreased this summer.

Many judges in Cook County and the Chicago area announced plans for vacations during the summer and the court there requested aid from the Illinois Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court requested all downstate judges to serve one three-week session during the summer in Chicago. Judges here also are taking vacations and during any given week, about two judges from here are on vacation and another is in Cook County, according to the spokesman for the court system.

The result has been that

Robert Russell drowns in Texas

Robert Ray Russell, 18, of 2617 E. 24th St., an Army specialist-5 stationed at Fort Hood, Tex., drowned at 4:30 p.m. Monday while swimming with friends at Temple Beach Lake, Belton, Tex.

The lake adjoins the Fort Hood installation. Army officials said Mr. Russell was dismissed from duty about noon Monday and joined a group of friends in a swimming trip to the lake. Details of the incident were not immediately available.

He was born in Granite City and lived here all his life. Mr. Russell attended Granite City High School north and had been in the Army 19 months.

He was a member of the Second Baptist Church.

Mr. Russell is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Ray Russell, two sisters, Miss Cynthia Kay Russell and Miss Tammy Lynn Russell, maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Crismon of Granite City, paternal grand-

COURT BACKLOGS appear on more than paper and the lobby of the Granite City Hall was packed Monday afternoon as more than 200 persons were scheduled for court appearances in a three-hour period. Not all of those shown were to appear in court as many were accompanying friends or relatives. A court spokesman said the massive court docket for appearances Monday was the result of "a breakdown of communications," since the police were not told that two dates for appearances had been set during July. One day per month had been set aside each month since April for the first appearances. Monday's docket included traffic and misdemeanor violations.

Begin sewer rehabilitation

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer

A five-year program to rehabilitate and repair the sanitary sewer system in the Nameki area, and to monitor the condition of sewer lines in other parts of the city as well, was approved by the Granite City council Monday night.

Mayor Paul Schuler and council members described the move as a "first step" toward solution of major sewer problems in the Nameki area where 43 sanitary sewer line breaks have occurred during the past two years.

Action on three separate steps of the program was taken by the aldermen after the Community Resources Commission, a civic body appointed by the mayor as a community development group, recommended that prompt action be taken on the program as outlined in a report last week by the Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates engineering firm of St. Louis.

With 12 of the council's 14 members present, the proposed sewer program was approved 11 to 1 on a roll call vote. Aldermen B. E. Robertson and Gerald Farmlsey were absent.

The single opponent was Alderman Walter Nomm of the Fifth Ward who said the plan urged by the engineering firm "doesn't contain anything we haven't known for several years." Nomm said he would vote for "nothing less than a whole new sewer system" in the Nameki area.

The council established the rehabilitation program in three separate voting actions. The council voted to:

(1) Authorize the establishment of a flow monitoring program as recommended by Sverdrup & Parcel to determine the condition of sewer lines and the priority of need of repair or replacement.

(2) Authorize a call for bids to furnish a Cues Television Monitoring and Greeting unit with which to televise the interior of suspect sewer lines, and to grant lines where leaks may be located by the television equipment. This same motion also authorized employment of three additional men by the City Street Department to operate the television and greeting equipment.

(3) Authorize Mayor Schuler to enter into an agreement with Sverdrup & Parcel to study the reports obtained from televising and to draft plans and specifications for sewer repairs where most urgently needed.

This study at first will be confined to an area described in the engineering report and recommendations as "Section C," where the greatest concentration of sanitary sewer line breaks has developed.

Mayor Schuler urged council members to take action in Monday night's meeting, noting that "we can't have these studies and not do anything about them." He said federal and state money may become available as the program progresses, but there was a need "for action now."

The initial expense in getting the program under way will be about $50,000, the estimated cost of the television and greeting equipment, which will be truck mounted. Schuler said this expense can be paid out of federal revenue sharing accounts.

The mayor, the most outspoken proponent of the program, said there is a probability that $27,000 allotted Granite City in the countywide Community Development program could be used for sewer rehabilitation.

Nomm, however, said the proposed program "is just a repeat of what we've been doing. We'll spend a little this

Chase ends in accident

Kevin Daley, 22, of Collinsville, was injured when a motorcycle he was riding was hit by a car and being chased by an Illinois State Police car, went out of control on Beebler Road, two miles north of Belline, U.S. 40 and ended in a 20-foot embankment into a ditch.

Daley was brought to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with abrasions to his right ribs and hip. The state trooper said he began to chase the motorcycle after he alleged it was exceeding the speed limit. Daley was charged with speeding, attempting to elude police and not having a valid driver's license.

Sister's 50th year in 100- year-old order

By GARY KEBBEL

Press-Record Staff Writer

This Bicentennial year is a special year for the Sisters of Divine Providence. The Catholic order of nuns came to the United States June 25, 1875, and this year the sisters begin the celebration of their 100 years of service in America.

For Sister Lucina of Granite City, 1975 is a year for dual celebrations, because in August the sister will have been in the order 50 years—half the time of its existence.

Throughout that half-century, Sister Lucina taught elementary school and high school, held the position of principal at Elizabeth Elementary School, served as administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, served as head of the nuns in the order's St. Louis province (which extends from the Granite City area to the West Coast) and became secretary to the Mother General, head of the order, in Mainz, Germany, and Rome, Italy.

She has been elected to be part of a delegation going to Rome Sept. 3 for a general meeting which the order holds every five years. She will be in Rome about 40 days.

Sister Lucina also was a member of such a delegation in 1929 when, to her surprise, she was elected American secretary to the Mother General.

She doesn't plan to come back holding a new title this year, however.

"Some of the younger ones should get to serve in the Generalate (the order's office in Rome)," she commented to the Press-Record this week.

When the sister returns to the U.S., she will teach English at the Mount Providence School for Boys in Normandy, Mo., where one of the order's three American provinces (administrative divisions) is headquartered.

Having taught children in the 1920s and in the 1950s, Sister Lucina believes she has grown with her students.

"I go along and try to inspire, and try to give them a sense of value to lead them to good," she said.

She remarked that changing

New coke oven emission control system explained

The adjacent drawing illustrates a system invented at Granite City Steel, where the components have been tested successfully on a prototype basis, for capturing air contaminants when finished coke is pushed from an oven into the air.

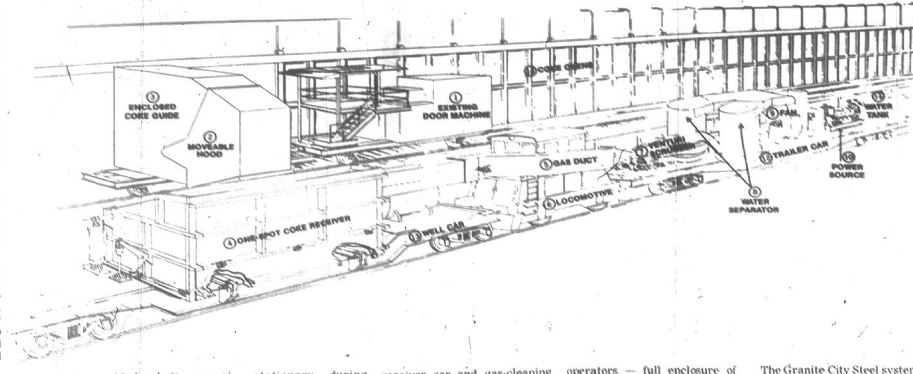

Control of these emissions has been regarded as one of the steel industry's most difficult remaining environmental problems.

Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corp. and the largest steel plant in the St. Louis area, has applied for a patent on the coke pushing emission control system.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has issued a construction permit and the U.S. EPA has approved an installation schedule under which Granite City Steel is to have two complete control systems installed and in full operation by June 30, 1977.

Principal components of the Granite City Steel system, as shown in the drawing, are an enclosed coke receiver or quench car (4) with a fixed hood operating on a ground track parallel with the battery of coke ovens (14).

A coke guide (3) of a new design, equipped with an air-insulated or movable hood (2), runs on a track alongside the ovens. The door machine (11) positions the coke guide at the oven to be pushed.

The articulated hood (2) on the coke guide is connected with the fixed hood over the coke receiver car (4). As burning coke is pushed in to it, which is designed so it can remain stationary during pushing, a 50,000 cubic-foot-a-minute fan (9) on the trailer car (12) draws the emissions from the burning coke through a gas duct (5) into a high-energy Venturi scrubber (7).

Once the oven is cleared, the articulated hood (2) is disconnected and an electric locomotive (6) pushes the coke receiver car and gas-cleaning trailer to a quenching water tank, where a battery of pipes is lowered into the receiver car and the coke is deluged with water.

Considerable steel industry interest has been expressed in the Granite City Steel system, which realizes objectives sought by many coke oven operators — full enclosure of the coke push and capture of the emissions during pushing.

Dr. Ronald F. Cairns, Granite City Steel vice president, said today the new system requires less energy to operate and involves lower initial costs than such alternate control methods as stationary sheds or traveling hood arrangements.

The Granite City Steel system can be installed on existing coke oven batteries or incorporated in the design of new batteries. Another advantage, Dr. Cairns said, is that the new system permits conventional operation of coke plant equipment such as the coke side bench, the coke quench station equipped with baffles and the coke wharf.

meet such a burden, estimated that an increase of 12 percent, if granted, would cost the city approximately $247,000 a year, a lesser major item which some officials are certain will remain in the appropriation measure despite any future trimming, is an Opti-Com system which has been sought by some aldermen for a long time.

A total of $300,000 is included in "new items" of the Fire Department budget for the Opti-Com system which is an electronic method of causing all traffic lights to turn green upon the approach of siren-sounding emergency vehicles also are included.

In supporting a call for installation of the system, reportedly highly successful in other cities, some aldermen contend that such a system might have prevented the collision of a fire truck and ambulance several years ago. That accident resulted in the death of a father and his son.

Redbudgeted for construction of a proposed new fire station is a total of $108,411. A site for the firehouse is located on Madison Avenue several years ago. That accident resulted in the death of a father and his son.

Major items in the Police Department appropriation bill include $25,000 for remodeling the radio room, squad room, garage area, locker room, the lieutenant-colonel's office, the office of the chief's secretary, and the offices of the patrol and service.

An additional $28,000 is provided in the police budget for radio equipment, antennas and recording equipment, to upgrade communications capabilities.

Also listed in the police budget is a total of $40,000 for purchase of ten new squad cars and provisions for two additional patrolmen and a patrolman, although costs for the latter depend upon salary schedules yet to be completed.

In the Street Department budget, provisions also are made for four additional men whose salaries are not listed pending completion of negotiations.

Other items, however, include $25,000 for purchase of a new street sweeper, $20,000 for a new backhoe, $30,000 for a new grader, $30,000 for two tandem dump trucks and $16,000 for two trucks. Also projected for purchase by the Street Department are two tailgate spreaders at a total of $8,000, one service truck at $2,000, one pickup truck at $4,000, a scrap blade attachment at $1,000 and a highlift attachment at $2,500.

Broadway work scheduled

Demolishing of the Broadway underpass in Venice began Monday, Arthur Kittenbach, resident engineer for the city of Venice, reported to the City Council at its Tuesday night meeting.

After pumping for 15 hours, a drop in the underground water table could be noticed and the pumping will continue the rest of this week. A series of well points have been placed along one side of the roadway to pump water from the ground, the engineer said.

Kittenbach told the council that excavation and placing of sewers will begin during the week of July 21 and paving near and through the underpass should start the first week in September.

The relocation of Broadway began last year under a $817,000 contract awarded to Kerr Construction Co., but the contract did not anticipate the high water table preventing the installation of drainage facilities for the road project, as the original survey was done prior to the 1973 floods.

The Broadway underpass superstructure had been completed since 1971. The council by a unanimous vote went on record opposing the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. proposal to increase water rates.

The council approved St. Mark's church request to serve beer and wine on Saturday, July 26, at "Italian Night," approved a New Salem Baptist church request to hold a parade at 6 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 2; approved the 5th annual Newport Homecoming Association request to serve beer at its event Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1.

The council also agreed to purchase of two portable two-way radios for $650 and one for $450 to be placed in the fire trucks, and approved the annual police pension fund report which is available for public inspection for 30 days at the City hall.

Mayor William Ebersoldt appointed Mrs. Margaret Lee and William E. Griggs, representatives from Venice, to a Quad-City Bicentennial Parade committee.

The mayor also appointed John E. Lee and Thomas Fields to head a committee to organize a "Mayor's Ball" in cooperation with Madison, as part of the Bicentennial activities.

The council approved the treasurer's report for June which showed disbursements in the General Fund of $57,887 and receipts of $70,977.

A special meeting of the council has been called for 7 p.m. Tuesday to prepare a 1975-76 operating budget.

McKinley bridge repair due

Repairs to the east and west approaches of McKinley bridge at Venice will begin within the next several weeks in accordance with recommendations by the Hardesty & Hanover engineering firm of New York which is responsible for overseeing maintenance of the bridge in behalf of the bondholders.

The Venice City Council authorized the work Tuesday night in the award of a contract to the J. S. Alberici Construction Co., St. Louis, which customarily handles bridge repairs.

The engineering report said the work is expected to cost about $104,000. The report indicated the steel plating and joint units to the approaches were rusting due to salting in bad weather and normal wear. The report suggested repairs be made now because of greater cost if it is done later.

The superstructure was found to be in good condition. Joseph Brooks is a consulting engineer for the city in matters pertaining to the bridge will supervise the repair.

Brooks explained to the council that the repairs will be done in 500-foot sections and with as little interference with the traffic flow as possible.

The traffic report for the month of June showed a total of 212,272 vehicles crossed the bridge, an average daily total of 7,076.

The council by a unanimous vote went on record opposing the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. proposal to increase water rates.

The council approved St. Mark's church request to serve beer and wine on Saturday, July 26, at "Italian Night," approved a New Salem Baptist church request to hold a parade at 6 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 2; approved the 5th annual Newport Homecoming Association request to serve beer at its event Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1.

Student, 19, is found dead

Funeral services for Richard B. Brubaker, 19, a freshman at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, were held Wednesday in Edwardsville, with burial at Woodlawn Cemetery.

He was found dead in his room at SIUE's Tower Lake Apartments at 1:30 p.m. Monday. An inquiry was made by Deputy Coroner Cleve Mateer.

According to the coroner's pathologist, Dr. William Drake, the cause of death was an overdose of prescription medicine. SIUE security officers said Brubaker had been under a doctor's care, and there was no evidence of foul play.

The body was discovered by SIUE Housing officials who opened the apartment after one of Brubaker's roommates returning to campus from the Fourth of July weekend reported being locked out of the apartment. Security officers said Brubaker was by himself in the apartment over the weekend. The pathologist's report indicates death may have occurred as early as July 4.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bruce Brubaker of Edwardsville, his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Winona Brown, Edwardsville; and two sisters, Linda Brubaker, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Richard (Patricia) Russell, Chardon Hills.

The family suggested that memorials be made to the National Epilepsy Foundation.

Reports better programs at Y

Introducing more underprivileged children to the programs of the YMCA during the past year is one of many noteworthy accomplishments of the Y, according to Harold Rudolph, director of the YMCA. Rudolph, a Granite City Rotarian, spoke to the Madison-Venice Rotary Club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

John Blasingame, past president of the M-V club, was program chairman and praised the accomplishments the Y has made under "Rudy's guidance."

Rudolph told the Rotarians that he felt the Y is serving children from 10 to 15 years of age well but needs to improve service for teenagers and for children between 6 and 9 years of age.

He said he also feels that the Y should be doing more in the area of service to senior citizens.

Ray Edwards, club president, appointed Larry Palke as fellowship chairman, Les Schermer as project chairman and Blasingame as program chairman.

Court jammed

Judges are available in Granite City only on the assigned court days or when called.

At times, the wait for a judge to set bond for a prisoner has been many hours, with the prisoner being finally released on bond as late as 7 p.m., rather than in the morning.

The court spokesman said the temporary shortage of judges should end about August, and no serious problems are anticipated during that time.

He noted Circuit Judge Moses W. Harrison II is serving full-time in Granite City. Associate judges may be called at any time and will come to Granite City as soon as possible.

Judge Harrison is occupied much of the time with civil lawsuits and can not devote all of his time to police matters.

The associate judges have, in the past, been the judges most used by police.

Chief Veizer said the judge system seems to be working well.

"I would love to have an associate judge here every day, but this system is working."

"Every time we call a judge, he calls as soon as possible and Judge Harrison has been very helpful. He can't leave when we have a trial, but he always helps when he has a break or recess in a trial," Veizer stated.

Other veteran policemen disagreed with Veizer, one saying, "We need a judge here every day. For 25 years we had one here Monday through Friday. We need one here now every day a lot more than we did then," the officer said.

The court spokesman said every possible attempt is being made to lighten the workload of judges to make them more available when needed.

"One system which is working everywhere except Granite City is to dispose of more misdemeanor cases at the first appearance."

In Granite City, most persons on misdemeanor charges, do not bring an attorney to the first appearance since they need only plead innocent and have a hearing date set.

"In other areas, we are attempting to use the assistant state's attorney to try to negotiate pleas with the accused at the first appearance and then to recommend a sentence or fine which can be ordered by the judge at that point," the spokesman said.

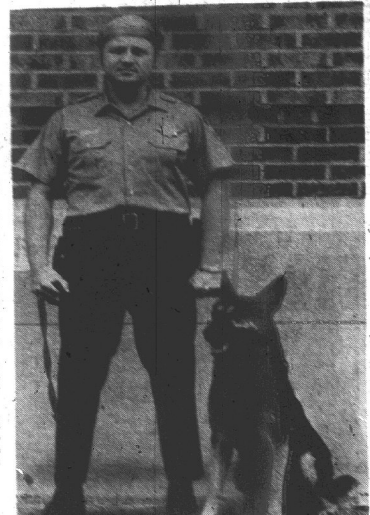

"That would eliminate many cases which appear on the hearing and trial dockets by resolving them at the first appearance. This system has worked well in Collinsville for several years and appears to be working well everywhere in the circuit, except in Granite City," he added.

It was noted that the assistant state's attorney, stationed in Granite City, Casper Nghobossian, was not present at Monday's appearance date, simply because he was not needed, under the system being used here.

A spokesman for Chief Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman said the chief judge has met with State's Attorney Nicholas Byron to attempt to begin the system here.

Schuman and Byron were in the Granite City courtroom Tuesday, attempting to start the system of having misdemeanor cases negotiated for a plea and disposed of at the first appearance.

Whether the system will be operable by Aug. 4 is in question, but the additional court days should help prevent a giant case load, such as occurred from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, from ever occurring in Granite City again, the spokesman predicted.

POLICE DOG HERRIC and his handler, Sgt. Richard Woods of the Granite City Police Department. The 12-year-old German Shepherd died Monday. The dog was retired from duty Feb. 6, 1974, after serving with the department for eight years.

Heric, retired police dog, dies

By VALERIE EYENDEEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Heric, the German Shepherd dog whose performance on duty and behavior at public exhibitions while a member of the Granite City Police Department was superb, died Monday.

The 12-year-old male police dog succumbed to an ailment of the hips, a disease frequently found in the German Shepherd breed at an older age which results in general deterioration and inability to control the rear quarters, according to his handler and friend, Police Sergeant Richard Woods.

Heric was retired from the Granite City Police Department on Feb. 6, 1974, along with Kirk, the department's second police dog. Kirk lives at the home of retired Police Officer Ralph Parnley, who handled Kirk for the department.

"He was a fine dog, good around kids and well behaved," Sgt. Woods said Tuesday. "We will miss him."

Heric had lived with the Woods family, which includes two youngsters, since he was obtained by the Granite City Police Department in 1962. The dog officially became a department member in July 1968.

Sgt. Woods and Heric were trained together at the St. Louis Police Department Canine School, and the two remained partners for the eight years the dog was in service.

Kirk and Heric were the second pair of dogs obtained by the Granite City department. The first German Shepherd, who was in service about a year, retired because he failed to live up to expectations and was replaced by Heric and Kirk.

"Heric was especially good when exhibiting his skills at schools, before church groups or in similar special shows," Sgt. Woods said.

"After putting on his 'heric dog' routine, which made him look pretty vicious, Heric would enjoy being petted and stroked by the children," the police officer explained.

In many incidents involving Heric's capable assistance, two stand out in the mind of his handler.

One incident, in 1972, involved a fugitive fleeing into a wooded area near Slough Road, whose capture resulted in clearing 15 acres committed in an area mostly connected with burials and auto theft, Sgt. Woods said.

The police officer recalled that a suspect in a stolen car was being chased by Patrolman Albert Young when the man jumped from the vehicle and went to cover in the vicinity of Slough Road. Some time was spent trying to locate the man and get him out of the brush.

"Then Al called me and I brought Heric to the scene. The dog flushed out the suspect within three minutes without anyone getting hurt, including the man we were after," Sgt. Woods said.

Another time Heric proved very useful, was during a riot at Wilson Park. The animal's presence at the scene helped cool things down and the disturbance was effectively handled without more difficult problems developing, Sgt. Woods recalled.

during his lifetime. Both are bigger than their sire, and one has been exhibited by its owner at area dog shows, Sgt. Woods noted.

An advocate of the use of police dogs under specific circumstances, Sgt. Woods believes they are a tremendous deterrent to crime and is sorry they are no longer part of the police service here.

"They don't have to be used to hurt anyone, just by being there and seen usually is enough to bring an unruly crowd to its senses or make a cornered fugitive give up, he commented.

"People quiet down in a hurry when the dog appears," he said.

Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer said Wednesday the dogs were phased out due to reorganizing the department.

"Both animals were nearing retirement age and to replace them and retrain dogs and handlers is an expensive proposition," Chief Veizer said.

"Besides, we needed the manpower in other areas," he added.

The specially equipped vehicles required to transport the dogs also was an expense factor in cutting out the program, he said.

Heric was retired Monday at the Granite City Animal Shelter, where a marker will be erected by the city to commemorate his service to the community and police department.

The community lost a reliable deterrent to crime on Feb. 6, 1974 when Heric was retired.

On Monday, Sgt. Woods and his family lost a good friend.

County's spay fund depleted

Most persons applying for a rebate under the Madison County spay-neuter program will not receive their rebates until December—if ever.

The program is rapidly running out of money and there remains only enough in the fund to keep it going about 10 days.

The Madison County Board is to meet July 16, at which time rebate claims for 223 animals, totaling $1,897 for June, are to be approved.

That action will leave only $500 in the fund. The program will receive no new funds until the beginning of the county's new fiscal year Dec. 1, and then only if the County Board votes to continue the program in the new budget.

The program, established to reduce the number of stray dogs and cats in the county, offers the owners of animals rebates if they have their animals spayed or neutered. The rebate schedule is $20 for a female dog, $25 for a male dog or female cat and $5 for a male cat.

Applications are made with the veterinarian performing the operation.

A spokesman for the program said today that applications received after the funds under the program are exhausted will be held until Dec. 1, when they probably will be paid, if the program is sufficiently funded then.

Pension guarantees proposed

A proposed regulation defining the types of pension benefits which will be guaranteed by the Pension Benefits Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) has been announced by Steven E. Schanes, acting executive director.

The pension benefit guarantee program was established by Title IV of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Under the proposal, if a private pension plan covered by the basic insurance program in Title IV terminates, PBGC would guarantee a broad range of pension benefits commonly found in private pension plans.

Such insured benefits would include normal age retirement and certain disability retirement benefits, disability retirement benefits, and pensions for survivors of deceased plan participants. The proposed regulation also includes two alternatives for treatment of early retirement pensions.

The guarantee covers benefits in several categories. In all instances, however, the guarantee is subject to the limitations of Section 4022 of ERISA.

1. For individuals who are receiving benefits on the date of plan termination:

A. If an individual retired at the normal retirement age under the plan or later, the pension would be guaranteed as long as it does not exceed the benefit accrued (earned) for retirement at the normal retirement age.

For example, an employee who retired with 20 years of service and under the plan's provisions had accrued a monthly benefit of $10 for each year of service, generally would be guaranteed a plan benefit of $200, which would be guaranteed by PBGC.

B. Two alternatives have been proposed for treatment of early retirement benefits.

Under Alternative 1, if an individual has elected or is receiving early retirement benefits on the date of plan termination, the benefit would be guaranteed up to the amount accrued for normal age retirement regardless of whether the election was made before or after the announcement of the proposed plan termination.

Under Alternative 2, if early retirement was elected after announcement of the proposed plan termination, the amount guaranteed would be reduced actuarially to reflect the age of the participant at retirement, unless early retirement was a consequence of the fact that employment could not continue.

However, if the election was made or benefits commenced before the proposed termination was announced, the benefit would be guaranteed, as in Alternative 1, up to the amount accrued for normal age retirement.

To illustrate the difference between the two alternatives, consider a case in which the proposed plan termination is announced on Dec. 31 as announced Nov. 1. Employment opportunities will continue after the plan termination.

On Nov. 30, an individual who is 55 years old and is entitled under the plan to an unreduced monthly benefit of $300, i.e., the benefit accrued for normal age retirement at age 65, applies for early retirement.

Under Alternative 1, the full $300 would be guaranteed because the individual elected early retirement before the date of plan termination.

Under Alternative 2, the guaranteed portion of the $300 benefit would be reduced actuarially to reflect retirement at age 55, because the election was made after the date the proposed termination was announced.

In summary, under Alternative 1, the date before which unreduced early retirement benefits must be elected in order to be fully guaranteed is the termination date.

In summary, under Alternative 2, the date before which unreduced early retirement benefits must be elected in order to be fully guaranteed is the date of plan termination.

With Alternative 2, the date before which the unreduced early retirement benefits must be elected in order to be fully guaranteed is the date of plan termination.

C. If an individual is retired under a permanent and total disability retirement provision when the plan terminates, the disability retirement pension would be guaranteed.

D. If a spouse or other dependent is receiving a survivor's pension because of a participant's death before retirement, and prior to plan termination, the pension would be guaranteed. If the participant died after retirement, the survivor's pension under the plan would be guaranteed up to the amount accrued for the deceased participant's normal age retirement.

E. For individuals who are not receiving benefits on the date of plan termination:

A. If an individual has a vested right to normal age retirement benefits under the plan—that is, the individual has met the conditions under the plan which entitle him to a pension at the normal retirement age even if he were to be separated from the job sooner—the vested pension would be guaranteed up to the amount accrued for normal age retirement.

For example, if an individual has 20 years of service on the date the plan terminates and is fully vested in a monthly benefit of $10 for each year of service, the guaranteed benefit would be $200.

He would begin to receive his benefit when he reaches the normal retirement age specified in the plan.

B. If an individual is eligible for early retirement on the date of plan termination, and retired after the date of plan termination, the early retirement pension under the plan would be guaranteed up to the amount accrued for normal age retirement, actuarially reduced to the age at which he retires.

For example, if on the date of plan termination, an individual is age 55 and is eligible under the plan to receive early with $200 monthly pension, which is the amount accrued for normal age retirement at age 65, for purposes of the guarantee, the $200 benefit would be actuarially reduced to reflect retirement at age 55.

C. If a retired participant dies after the date of plan termination (regardless of whether the retirement occurred before or after the plan termination date), a pension payable under the plan to a surviving spouse or dependent would be guaranteed up to the amount of the benefit the deceased participant accrued for normal age retirement.

If the survivor's benefit is payable solely in a single installment actuarially derived from a retired employee's benefit, the value would be guaranteed.

Limitations Under Section 4022 of ERISA: A participant's covered benefits would be guaranteed in accordance with the above proposals, but subject to the overall limitations of Section 4022 of ERISA.

One major limitation is that maximum guaranteed benefits may not exceed the value of a life annuity beginning at age 65 equal to the lesser of (a) the participant's highest average salary for a consecutive five-year period under the plan; or (b) $750 per month, adjusted for increases in the Social Security Act benefit and contribution base.

For plans terminating in 1975, the adjusted figure is $80.14.

Another limitation is that where a plan or an amendment has been adopted or made effective within the five-year period preceding termination, benefits provided by the plan or amendment are not immediately guaranteed in full.

New benefits and increases in benefits become guaranteed within a five-year period generally at the rate of 20 per cent per year.

The guaranteed amount of a $200 monthly benefit increase which is two years old when the plan terminates would be $40. But a monthly benefit increase of $20 or less would be guaranteed after one year.

PBGC's board of directors, which approved the proposed regulation, consists of Chairman John T. Dunlop, secretary of labor, and board members William E. Simon, secretary of the treasury, and Rogers C. B. Morton, secretary of commerce.

The plan reflects deliberation by the PBGC advisory committee, appointed by President Ford and including seven members representing employee, employer and public interests. The proposal was developed after staff analysis, including discussions with employee and employer groups.

MOBILE MEALS are prepared five days a week for senior citizens and handicapped persons unable to cook for themselves, in St. Elizabeth hospital kitchens and taken to homes by volunteer workers from churches and civic groups in the area. Checking the meals before they leave are, from left, Mike May, food service director for the hospital; Barbara Kraus, diet technician; Mike Mercer, tray line worker, and Cheryl Rausch, chief administrative dietitian. Information on mobile meals may be obtained by contacting either Catholic or Protestant charities offices.

Overpass job to Rocket launchings at SIUE

A contract for relocation of rail lines, utilities, fencing and other structures on the Granite City Army Installation grounds to facilitate construction of the Chicago Avenue overpass has been awarded to G. H. Sternberg & Co. of Granite City on a bid of $85,824. The contract award by the Omaha District Army Corps of Engineers was announced by Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) at Washington.

The overpass spanning the railroad tracks on the Army Installation grounds is being built by the state at Chicago Avenue to carry traffic of E.A. Route 151. The Great River Road when the highway is extended from Granite City to Venice, E.A. Route 151, now ends at Niedringhaus Avenue in Granite City.

The public is invited to watch the launching of more than 100 "homemade" rockets and demonstrations by a U.S. Army helicopter, Monday, July 14, at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer field.

The events will be part of a class in aerospace education, scheduled through July 18 at the University. It will feature airport visits, flying experiences and tours of airline headquarters and aircraft production facilities in St. Louis.

The public demonstrations are scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. at the SIUE soccer field on Bluff Road. Bob Williams, instructor, said the class members were given materials to construct their own rockets during the first two days of this week's workshop. The products of their experiments will be launched at the public session prior to flight

Arrested at River Festival

A 17-year-old has been charged by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville security officers with a felony in connection with the possession of marijuana on the SIUE campus.

The class will hear lectures by prominent aviation leaders, including representatives of the U.S. Air Force, Civil Air Patrol and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Tours are planned at Oark Airlines and McDonnell-Douglas facilities in St. Louis, and flights over the area will be offered during a visit to Civic Memorial Airport at Bethalto.

FLY MARKET SUNDAY. A flea market will be held Sunday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at Lindendale Park, Highland. Admission will be free.

Shuttle bus during Clark Bridge closing

Beginning Monday, July 14, the Missouri branch of the Alton-St. Louis bus line will not operate through to Alton as a result of the closing of the Clark Bridge. A special shuttle will be inaugurated to provide substitute service.

James R. Kendrick, acting general manager of the Transit Division of the Bi-State Development Agency, announced that during the work on the Clark Bridge, the Missouri branch of the Alton-St. Louis line will terminate at Highway 54 and 62 in Missouri between the Clark Bridge and the Lewis Bridge. The Illinois branch of the Alton-St. Louis line will not be affected.

The special shuttle is being inaugurated for Alton and Wood River area residents who use the Missouri branch to meet their travel requirements. The route of the special shuttle bus service will be from Third Street and Plaza through Alton and Wood River along the route of the Illinois branch of the Alton-St. Louis line to Highway 111 and 270, and then via Interstate 270, Bellefontaine and Parker Roads to I-55 Avenue.

Soviet trip may aid Percy's popularity in Illinois, U. S.

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau
Sen. Charles H. Percy's trip to Moscow is an opportunity to recoup some of the Jewish support he lost last January after a tour of the Middle East. The Illinois Republican came back from the Midwest with a warning that Israel would be wise to be conciliatory rather than belligerent or risk loss of Congressional support. Later, in a Chicago meeting of Jewish leaders, Percy sought to reassure "many lifelong friends" of his continued support of Israel's "legitimate aspirations." When he left, Percy said he saw some who remained "deeply, deeply troubled." He was unsure of their continued support. Percy and 13 other senators went to Moscow at the invitation of the Supreme Soviet, the parliament of the Soviet Union. They are assessing future Soviet-American relations, and their agenda has included the repressive Soviet emigration policy, particularly as it relates to Jews. Percy, it is clear from news reports, has made the most of this. One of Percy's top aides agrees that the Moscow trip has offered the senator an opportunity to address the Jewish emigration issue and perhaps "make some progress" in regaining his old standing in the American Jewish community. At the same time, Percy can stake out a position on the Jewish emigration policy quite distinct from that of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, the Washington Democrat who, like Percy, aspires to the Presidency. But whether Percy seeks the Republican Presidential nomination next year or not, it always behooves a politician to keep old friends and regain the lost.

Last year on the foreign trade bill, Jackson got through an amendment denying most favored-nation (MFN) trade status and credit to non-Marxist (Communist) countries that did not permit free emigration. The Ford Administration held MFN essential to its detente policy with the Soviet Union. But Congress balked on the Soviet restrictions on Jewish emigration. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, responding to the Jackson amendment, said the emigration issue was purely domestic and that a decrease rather than an increase in the number of citizens wishing to emigrate could be expected. The annual rate of Jewish migration was running about 60,000 a year, and Jackson contended that 60,000 annually should be considered a "minimum standard" of emigration for granting of MFN status.

Percy, in Moscow discussions, has called for a separation of the emigration issue and the granting of MFN. He believes the Senatorial delegation may have a good chance to resolve the stalemate. If this should occur, he believes Congress might then be of a mood to approve MFN and better financial credits.

"We want results on emigration," Sen. Percy has said. "I think we can achieve results by handling MFN and emigration separately." Percy also believes the goal should be to get emigration back to the 1973 level, about 35,000 a year. It is now about a third of that, bearing out Gromyko's warning of an impending decrease.

Percy seems to suggest that Jackson's goal of 60,000 may be unrealistic now because Israel is limited in the rate of absorption and resettlement of newcomers.

Four quality for degrees

A total of 2,220 persons have completed requirements for the bachelor's degree at Illinois State University - Normal-Bloomington and will receive the degree by mail, according to ISU admissions and records officials. The list includes four Granite Cityans. Although the spring semester ended in May, announcement of the official list of graduates was delayed to allow a survey to determine if each individual candidate met all requirements for graduation. All 1975 degree candidates were eligible to participate in the 11th commencement in the Horton Field House May 17. The list of graduates includes: Steven Michael Beatty, 115 Riviera Drive, and Ronald Dean Turner, 402 Kathy Drive, each receiving a bachelor of science degree; and Francis Thomas Melchior, Rural Route One and Barbara Ann Parkinson, 2111 Ames Ave., each receiving a degree of bachelor of science in education.

Inter-City to name baseball all-stars

Managers of the six participating teams in the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Troy's MacVell Roller Rink to cast their votes for league players to comprise the 1975 all-star teams which will compete in a night contest at Allerton Field on Wednesday, July 16.

In years past, the teams were composed of players from the league's Blue and Red Divisions.

Since the two divisions were eliminated at the start of the 1975 season, Ollie Miller, league president, states, "The first-place team in the standings will represent the league in an all-star squad and the second squad will be made of players selected from other teams in the league."

After early games this week were postponed due to wet field conditions, the league standings are: Highland-Pierson with a 9-6 record, Troy at 7-5, Fairfax 6-7, East Alton Vans 6-6, Mercer 3-6 and Panama 4-4.

A three-way battle looms for the top spot, with single contests on tap Sunday, all starting at 2 p.m.—Vans at Highland-Pierson, Troy at Fairfax and Mercer at Panama.

Four players presently on the Mercer's roster were selected for all-star honors last year: Bill Campbell, catcher; Bob Scott, outfielder; Dave Hudson, second baseman; and Mark Boone, pitcher.

Miller also reports that Larry Coey, Mercer's first baseman, has replaced his father, Wendell, as manager of the local team.

The elder Coey has managed the squad for the past five years.

Larry Coey will continue his role as a player on the squad.

Manoogian took the win on the mound at Edwardsville, 11-0, in defeating Edwardsville, 11-0.

Steeler nine loses two heartbreakers

Glen Carbon Legion Post 435 Steelers lost back-to-back American Legion baseball contests this week, 4-3 Tuesday at Alton and 3-1 yesterday at Fairview Heights.

At Alton, the Steelers garnered a run in the second inning when Jeff Reiter singled and Harvey Breckner doubled.

They earned another in the sixth when Ed Schmidt beat out a bunt, advanced on a passed ball, and scored on Dave Harrison's single.

Glen Carbon gained a 3-0 lead in the top half of the seventh when Jeff Carr got a hit, stole second and completed his base running on Rick Schmidt's single.

Hucker Greg Terrell had a one-hit hero game when he turned the pitching reins over to relief pitcher Mike Waldo in the seventh.

Alton, facing a two out and two strikes situation, rallied with three doubles and three singles for four runs.

A Post 435 spokesman, Satch Page, relates, "The game apparently was in the bag for us and Waldo was facing John Springer when the action started."

Springer singled over the first baseman's head, starting Alton's scoring spree.

In yesterday's contest, Fairview's Kirk Krill fanned eight batters and allowed three hits in winning.

Steeler Bill Dickerson went the distance, also allowing only three hits.

The game was still deadlocked 1-1 going into the fifth inning after both sides scored in the opening inning—Post 435 on a double by Breckner and a single by Harrison.

The hosts broke the tie as Hyland and Steve Voelkel doubled and a runner scored on a sacrifice fly by Roger Hotter.

Alton, facing a two out and two strikes situation, rallied with three doubles and three singles for four runs.

Business Women to open membership drive

"Safari for Membership" will be the theme of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's special international dinner party, scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 16 in the Red Room of the Travelodge Hotel, 1300 Nineteenth St.

Plans for the event were completed Monday evening when membership committee members were entertained in the home of Mrs. Barbara Hodges, 173 Briarwood Lane. All BPW members are being encouraged to invite a friend or prospective member to the dinner. Mrs. Hodges said. Guests will be charged only $1.25 each.

Members providing a covered dish item of an international variety will also pay $1.25. Dinner will cost $2 each for members not bringing a food dish, the chairman said.

The entire and beverages will be furnished by the club. Travel, world affairs and general topics of interest to involved women and those wishing to learn more about BPW's commitment to the working woman are on the program agenda, Mrs. Hodges said.

A special segment of colored slides will be presented by Miss Annellen Smith, immediate past president of the local business women's group, showing points of interest in East Africa and Mexico, where she recently traveled.

"It's a fun night event and an excellent opportunity for members to introduce a friend or coworker to the Granite City Professional Women's program," Mrs. Hodges said. Those attending are being asked to dress casually, she pointed out.

A silent auction is planned with members invited to donate white elephant items. Proceeds will be added to the club's operating fund. The subjects and decorations will reflect the international motif and foreign travel.

An working woman residing in the Quad-City area is invited to attend the "Safari for Membership" night and may call a committee member for reservations or information, the chairman said.

Club members and guests may call their reservation requests by Monday to: Judy McCann, at 931-1550; Marie Pele, 876-1000; Valerie Evenden, 876-2000; or in St. Louis to Mrs. Hodges, at 241-3710.

Membership in the BPW is open to all women who are actively engaged in business or the professions. Mrs. Rosemary Basden, president of the Granite City BPW Club, stated.

Women enrolled in college or a university or other accredited educational institution above the high school level also are eligible to join.

More than 1200 women are members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which is composed of 3,800 clubs in 53 state federations. These members are affiliated with 250,000 working women in more than 100 countries through membership in the International Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Founded in 1918, the National BPW Federation is a non-profit, non-partisan, non-union, self-governing, member-supported organization. In 1958, a foundation for research and expansion of women was established by the federation.

Mrs. Basden said, "Our goals are multi-faceted and are aimed toward helping women by enlightening women on subjects of international understanding and cooperation, endorsing qualified women for policy making positions and public offices and guaranteeing equal rights and eliminating all far-reaching discriminations against women."

The local club president continued, "BPW objectives strive to extend to women educational opportunities, involve members in legislative objectives and pay tribute to women's achievements."

"We also are dedicated to raising women's awareness of the status of women and elevating the dignity of women as homemakers and career persons and strengthening peace and security," Mrs. Basden explained.

"Establishment of numerous scholarships and fellowships and support of training centers on an international scope are among the achievements of the BPW federation," the club officer said.

Other accomplishments of the national federation include its library and research center to conduct and support research regarding employed women and to administer scholarship and training programs; constant leadership for the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment in Congress and ratification of ERA at the state level; Young Career Woman Program; Talent Bank for womanpower; and the International Women's Commissions on the Status of Women; formation of the International BPW Council; and five other countries; initiation of management seminars to develop management and leadership potential of members and non-members; and establishment of the Individual Development

MR. AND MRS. WILFRED L. EBERHART, who were united in marriage at Hope Lutheran Church. The bride is formerly Miss Sandra Kay Fulkerson and resided with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Fulkerson, 645 Margaret Ave.

Sandra Fulkerson weds Wilfred L. Eberhart

Pyramid shaped bouquets of blue and yellow carnations and yellow gladioli, interspersed with greenery, decorated the sanctuary of Hope Lutheran Church for the wedding of Miss Sandra Kay Fulkerson and Wilfred L. Eberhart on June 28.

Proceeding the 6 p.m. double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. David Fiedling, musical selections were played by Beverly Davis for vocalist Brian Chastain.

The bride resided with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Fulkerson, 645 Margaret Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred B. Eberhart, 600 E. Chain of Rocks Road.

Escorted to the altar by her grandfather, the former Miss Fulkerson selected a long white gown featuring a Venice lace yoke edged with a gathered ruffle.

Buffing created the high neckline and bound the long-slim sleeves fashioned of matching lace at the wrists.

Her full-length veil was bordered with lace and held in place by a halo headpiece. She held an arrangement of blue and yellow carnations and baby's breath.

The maid of honor was Miss Cheryl Mellinger and the bridesmaids were Miss Julie Wire and Mrs. Betty Jacober. All wore identical gowns in yellow and blue and held a single long stem rose.

Debbie Jacober, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She chose a long frock in blue made with a lace yoke and lace trimmed sleeves. She held a basket of red roses.

The groom chose Jon E. Bouse as his best man. Dennis Jacober, Ronald Shearlock, Rick and Tom Donaldson, cousins of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Brian Shearlock, the groom's nephew, served as the ringbearer.

A rehearsal dinner was served at the church on the evening prior to the ceremony. The reception for wedding guests was held at Montclair Bowl in Edwardsville.

The newlyweds are now at home following a honeymoon trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.

Both graduated from Granite City High School. The bride is employed at Ponderosa Steak House and her husband works as a fireman at the Granite City Army Installation.

MRS. SAMUEL RONGEY JR. The former Miss Pamela Gagich, whose wedding took place at Namecki United Presbyterian Church. She is a daughter of Mrs. James Maddox and Dusan Gagich, both of Granite City.

Miss Pamela Gagich and Samuel Rongey are wed

Miss Pamela Gagich, a daughter of Mrs. James Maddox, 3327 Princeton Drive, and Dusan Gagich, 2808 Sunset Drive, and Samuel J. Rongey Jr., son of Mrs. Phyllis Rongey, 2156 Washington Ave., were united in marriage on June 29 at the Namecki United Presbyterian Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening was the Rev. Don F. Pierson.

Nuptial selections included "The Wedding Song," "More" and "We've Only Just Begun." The soloist, Michael Ramach, was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Valerie Stevens.

Serving as candlelighters were Laura Maddox and Susan Seilheimer.

For her wedding, the bride wore a long white organza creation. The semi-straight skirt swept backward into a cathedral train, bordered with triple rows of gathered lace. Lace ruffling edged the V-neckline, accented the empire bodice and enhanced the long slim sleeves.

Her white fluted-brim hat secured a melody length veil, edged in lace, and she held a bouquet of summer blossoms.

Miss Paula Krieschek, the maid of honor, wore a multi-colored gown in blue, white and pink hues. Her flowers were blue carnations with baby's breath.

Both newlyweds are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Her husband was employed by the Granite City Park District. He has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and will leave on July 22 for basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Trip around world is library story theme

The Madison Public Library held a week-long story hour program for more than 30 children ranging in age from kindergarten through fifth grade.

The theme for the week-long activities was "Let's Take a Trip Around the World."

Each day a different country was featured and the activities included stories pertaining to their land and culture. Language, music, and foods were part of each day's program.

Mrs. Sharon Hargrave, program director, and Mrs. Louise Lewis, librarian, presented the program. The activities for the week are as follows:

Monday—The youngsters visited Mexico in storyland. They heard stories about the country, learned some of the language and made place mats, using the weaving method of the Mexican people. They ended the display by breaking a Piñata which is used at Mexican festivities.

Tuesday—A slide presentation on Israel and the Holy Land loaned to the library by Mrs. Geri Stein, was shown. Additional materials were on display and explained to the children. Mrs. Hargrave wore an authentic Bedouin costume. Israeli games were played and dates and figs were served in keeping with the day's theme.

Many of the boys and girls had never eaten this food, which is a main part of the Israeli diet.

Wednesday—The children went to France. They sang songs in French and learned simple useful phrases in that language. They painted a mural and were served French doughnuts to which they responded with the French "thank you."

Thursday—The children visited Poland and two of the children wore Polish costumes to show the group. They were taught the Native Polish Dances and they sampled Polish sausage and pickles donated by Mrs. Loretta Hylla.

Friday—They ended their trip back in the American, taking a brief look at Hawaii and sampled fresh pineapple after hearing about the state. Back in the U.S.A., the youngsters visited the park and had an old-fashioned American three-legged race. Ice cream was served at the end of the day.

Reading certificates were issued to those attending the week-long program. Those assisting were Barbara Franich, Linda Hylla and Mrs. Tina McIntosh.

EPA suggests variance for Nameoki ditch pipe

Granite City faces a possible suit by the Environmental Protection Agency, or by a citizen, because of the by-pass sewer line that continues to dump raw sewage into Nameoki ditch, the City Council was informed Monday night by James L. Young, manager of the Enforcement Section, Division of Water Pollution Control of the Illinois EPA.

Therefore, Young suggested, the city should seek a variance from EPA regulations to permit time for the city to find a solution to the problem. The bypass sewer line was installed to prevent a backup of stormwater through two sewer breaks into homes in the vicinity of the Nameoki drainage canal near Johnson Road. The pipe was installed by the Street Department in March.

Employees buy Amsted plant

AMSTED Industries, Chicago, announced this week it has sold its South Bend Lathe operation to employees of that division through an employee stock ownership plan. The sale price was approximately $10,000,000 in cash. The announcement was made jointly by Golf Smith, AMSTED president, and J. Richard Boulis, president of South Bend Lathe at South Bend, Ind.

The division has one plant in South Bend employing about 500 people. It manufactures a variety of machine tools, including lathes, mechanical presses and multiple spindle drilling machines. The company was acquired by AMSTED in 1959. AMSTED is a broadly diversified manufacturer with 10 other operating divisions and South Bend Lathe did not account for a significant portion of its total sales. Not including South Bend, AMSTED has 37 plants—33 in the United States, two in Canada, one in England and one in Belgium. The company's major markets are the railroads, construction and building, and general industry. It is currently expanding its American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

Bloodmobile here next week

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be stationed at two churches on four days next week to accept blood donations in a program sponsored by Quad-City Church Women United.

The unit will be stationed at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, 1900 St. Clair Ave., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, taking blood contributions from 2 to 6:45 p.m. each day.

It will move to St. Mary's Catholic Church, 10th Street and Alton Avenue, on Thursday, where donor hours also will be from 2 to 6:45 p.m.

According to Mrs. Helen Baran, local Church Women United blood chairman, all 15 participating churches are expected to take part in the new program.

Blood is guaranteed to participating church members if 25 percent of each congregation's membership donates blood to the Red Cross in a given year.

The Red Cross said that summer blood donations usually are low and the problem is compounded because the economic recession has forced cancellation of many blood-mobility visits.

Mrs. Baran said the group needs nurses to take patient histories and blood pressures. Available nurses are asked to call Mrs. Baran at 876-9116.

The blood donation process takes about 45 minutes. Persons not eligible include anyone who has heart trouble, diabetes, epilepsy, jaundice, hepatitis, high or low blood pressure, kidney diseases, or a history of cancer.

Persons who have had recent medication, dental work 72 hours before donating, or malaria three years before donating, are not eligible.

Pregnant women or women who have delivered a baby six months before the time they wish to donate blood are not eligible.

Persons 18 to 65 years old are accepted, and 17-year-olds may donate if they have written parental consent. Those over 65 may donate if they have the written consent of their doctor.

Home rule said to be helping GC, other cities respond more quickly to local needs

A clearinghouse service of up-to-date information on home rule in Illinois—offered by the Institute of Government and Public Affairs in the University of Illinois—has been transferred to a department of state government.

This month, the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs will begin collecting and providing information on the use of powers some municipalities and Cook County were given by the 1970 Illinois Constitution.

The home rule section of the Constitution reversed the traditional dominance of the state over local government units.

Cities, villages and incorporated towns with a population of at least 25,000 and counties with an elected chief executive officer were allowed to levy taxes, charge fees and make changes in procedures without state legislative approval.

Because densely populated Cook County and larger cities including Granite City—were automatically included in the change, at least two-thirds of the state's population lives under local governments with home rule powers.

Of the smaller municipalities which could gain home rule by referendum vote, 15 have approved the change. Among them are Deerfield, Lisle, Mount City, Park Forest South, Rosemont and Watson.

Included among the municipalities which have had some home rule since 1970 are Granite City, Alton, East St. Louis and Belleville.

Because home rule was so new, municipal officials, state legislators, members of local governing councils and lawyers who advised them needed information on court decisions, recommendations from experts and reports of actions by home rule units across the state.

Prof. Sam Gove, director of the U. of I. Institute of Government and Public Affairs, and some faculty members of the U. of I. at Urbana-Champaign wanted to study the consequences of granting more power to local governments.

With the support of a grant from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development administered through the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, Gove organized a three-year project which provided a clearinghouse service and systematic collection of information.

"This was the first time a university sponsored continuous study of home rule in any state," Gove said Wednesday.

Faculty members, graduate students, Project Editor Stephanie Cole and others produced a newsletter, pamphlets, articles and reports.

"The project has ended, but the service we gave will be continued in Springfield and some of our faculty and students will continue to study home rule," Gove said.

Broadening the powers of local governments has been successful, Gove said, because mayors and municipal councils have been cautious in using their new powers.

The efficiency of local government has been improved because it is more flexible and responsive and can act faster to deal with local needs, he said.

New retirement plan offered

Bob Hildebrand, vice-president and trust officer of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, has announced that the bank is now offering, and accepting, the Internal Revenue Service approved "Individual Retirement Account" (IRA).

Three accounts will be administered by the bank's trust department on an individual account basis.

As a result of recently enacted federal legislation, it is now possible for all wage-earning individuals, not presently a participant in a qualified retirement plan, to add to their financial security by establishing their own personal tax-sheltered retirement plan. If both the husband and wife are employed, and neither are participants in a qualified plan, each may establish a separate IRA account at Granite City Trust, he said.

Federal law allows a maximum annual contribution of $1,500 or 15 percent of wages, whichever is less, per individual. An employed couple, therefore, could make a total annual maximum deposit of $3,000. Smaller amounts may be contributed annually.

The advantage of the IRA account is that the amount of the annual contribution is the choice of the wage-earner. The total contributions can vary from year to year but cannot exceed the maximum allowed by law, Hildebrand said.

Hildebrand emphasized that the bank would accept periodic deposits through the year if this method would be more convenient to the individual. For federal income tax purposes, contributions to an IRA account are fully deductible from gross income up to the maximum allowed by law. A depositor may deduct his contribution even though he does not itemize deductions. As an example, if a taxpayer is in a 25 percent tax bracket, and makes the maximum $1,500 annual contribution, his immediate tax savings would be $375. A husband and wife, filing a joint return, and each contributing the maximum, would have an immediate tax savings of $750 on their 1975 tax return to be filed by April 15, 1976, he added.

An additional tax savings would be realized in that the earnings of an IRA account are not currently taxable. These earnings are added to the IRA account. Neither the principal nor the earnings are taxed until payments are received from it.

After reaching age 59½, the contributor may begin to withdraw and at that time the amount withdrawn must be included as ordinary income on the return filed for the year of receipt. These withdrawals may be spread over a period of years. Only annual withdrawals would be taxable in the year received, he said.

In the event of permanent disability, or death, withdrawals prior to age 59½ are permitted under the law. The depositor must begin to receive payments from his IRA account by the time he reaches 70½ years of age.

The individual has an immediate 100 percent vested interest in his account and any earnings therefrom. An individual, not disabled, may withdraw from his IRA account prior to age 59½ but will be subject to stiff tax penalties, Hildebrand noted. These tax penalties would not be applicable in the event of death. The balance of the account would be paid to the beneficiary and will be subject to normal income tax and must be included in the individual gross estate of the decedent for federal estate tax purposes.

The new law also specifically allows a self-employed person to establish an IRA account without the need to contribute on behalf of his employees. The self-employed may, if he wishes, contribute on behalf of an employee. In that instance, the employee must report the contribution as income but may then deduct the contribution from his gross income.

Hildebrand said, "We want to assure there will be no delay or red tape involved to open an IRA account. It is as easy as opening a regular savings account, and each IRA account will be insured by FDIC up to the $40,000 maximum. In addition, IRA account customers will be afforded the additional protection afforded trust department accounts."

Anyone interested may contact the trust department of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank in person, or phone 876-1212 for additional information, Hildebrand concluded.

Plan to appeal rehiring order

Officials of Colonial Haven Nursing Home, 3000 Stearns Ave., announced Tuesday they intend to appeal a National Labor Relations Board order to rehire about 37 employees who were replaced when they struck the facility April 29, 1974.

A spokesman for the nursing home management said, "In all probability, it will be appealed. It is now in the hands of the attorneys."

He clarified the question of whether the order forces the nursing home to accept a union. The order prohibits the nursing

Chouteau audit urges procedural changes

The Chouteau Township Board of Auditors has taken under consideration several recommendations from its certified public accounting firm, including one recommendation to obtain legal opinion whether the township highway commissioner was acting legally when he purchased equipment for which no funds were provided in his department's budget.

Auditor Cletus Bedwell noted that Highway Commissioner James Estes has purchased equipment during an "emergency" period when the majority of his equipment had experienced mechanical breakdowns and new equipment was needed to repair township roads.

Bedwell contended an attorney had been consulted before the purchases and had agreed that Estes could exceed his department's budget in situations the auditors agreed were emergencies.

Bob Zoelner, certified public accountant with the R. C. Schell & Co., Alton, which conducted the annual audit of the township's books, offered the suggestion as he reviewed the finished draft of the township's audit report for the 1974-75 fiscal year books.

Zoelner emphasized that comments by the auditors primarily were suggestions on bookkeeping changes and that the opinion on the overall accuracy of the township's books is "rather standard or clear opinion."

He explained the annual audit did not include unpaid taxes from the township collector's office, since the county keeps these records after the township collector has completed his work.

He suggested "fixed asset records" would include all records of due taxes and added, "The township does not maintain fixed asset records in accord with generally accepted accounting standards."

Zoelner noted his company has been working all year with the township's personnel to establish new bookkeeping methods. He said most of the suggested changes are nearly completed.

Other suggestions offered, many of which already are being undertaken, included: establishing a double-entry bookkeeping system with cash receipts and disbursement entries; prenumbered checks from the bank for township transactions; specific records of hours worked by each township employee; a fixed asset group of accounts to improve the township's control of assets, and a schedule of investments owned by various township funds which is maintained to control assets and to identify ownership by fund "to facilitate better investment management," according to the report.

Another suggestion was to establish reimbursements for travel allowances only on the basis of actual miles driven and by supported receipts and vouchers, rather than the township's "flat rate" travel grants now given by the township to employees whose jobs require travel.

The audit report also suggested that all road work and materials be purchased or selected on the basis of low bid to specifications, to insure the township getting the best prices for work and materials.

Estes has been criticized in the past for ordering materials and approving work from firms without competitive bidding, it was alleged.

The report also urged township officials to make necessary transfers between accounts to assure that all payroll deductions are paid from the proper accounts.

Zoelner told the auditors, "I can understand why you have done this (taking deductions from other funds), since the highway department funds were depleted, but all payroll deductions should be repaid and taken from the correct funds as soon as possible."

Supervisor Sparks said the auditors are aware of the problem and intend to repay all deductions due to other funds as soon as the first highway department taxes become available in the next few weeks.

Another suggestion made in the audit report drew direct opposition from Sparks. Zoelner suggested that fidelity bonds be obtained for the town clerk and bookkeeper.

Sparks said these officials do not handle funds and added, "I trust these two completely."

Sparks also objected to the high cost of fidelity bonds, saying they are not necessary for these

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., July 10, 1975 Page 29

employees.

He added, "If these gentlemen (the township auditors) feel we should purchase these bonds, we will do so, but I do not feel they justify the cost." He agreed to investigate the costs of the bonds.

Officers take large knife from woman

A woman who resides at Alton State Hospital was arrested by Granite City police at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday and was charged with aggravated assault for allegedly displaying a large kitchen knife when approached by officers.

Police said they were talking to a man and a woman in front of the Granite City High School South gymnasium when the woman started to run away.

She was chased to the north side of the gymnasium, where she allegedly took the knife from under her clothing and displayed it.

She started to run again and was chased until police stopped her and allegedly had to hold her to take the knife away.

The man with her was taken to Alton State Hospital and no charges were filed against him.

GC vocalist in recital at SIUE

Alicia J. Hendrickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hendrickson, 2123 Gillespie St., will present a junior vocal recital at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the Lovejoy Library Auditorium at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The musical presentation is being made in accordance with requirements for a bachelor of music degree in the field of performance.

Among the composers whose works will be featured are W. A. Mozart, G. U. Fauré, R. A. Schumann, R. Vaughn Williams, J. A. Carpenter and S. Barber. The featured texts will be sung in Italian, French, German and English.

Miss Hendrickson, vice-president of the SIUE chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon international music sorority, has a concentration in music education and performance in voice. She will be assisted by Miss Mary Ann Spore, flutist and a recent SIUE music graduate, and John Groes, pianist and accompanist in residence at SIUE.

Puppies, kittens at pet adoption clinic

"Happy," a black, part-wirehaired terrier, has been selected "Pet of the Month" by the Quad-Cities Association for Protection of Animals (APA).

The 2-year-old female dog is among the pets to be offered for adoption from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and from noon to 7 p.m. Sunday at a clinic sponsored by the APA at the Granite City Flea Market, 3675 Namecki Road.

"Happy is very good with youngsters," Mrs. Mary Ann Loftus, APA adoption supervisor, said. Many puppies and kittens of different breeds will be available to the public for a nominal adoption fee, she added.

Mrs. Loftus explained the fees are used to maintain the APA's shelter facility at the Granite City Army Installation and to provide medical attention for the animals left in care of the non-profit organization.

"We urgently need volunteers to help with the animals, either at the shelter, at the clinic sessions, or with other projects," Mrs. Loftus said. Persons interested in helping the humane group are invited to contact a volunteer on duty at the adoption center this weekend.

Pet owners are being asked not to bring unwanted animals to the adoption clinic site, Mrs. Loftus said.

"We are not set up to receive animals at the adoption center," she stressed.

Three to study music at SIUC

Three Granite City High School South students will receive music instruction at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale from July 13 to July 26.

Beth Potillo will study flute; Robin Robertson will study bassoon; and Mary Dollins will study clarinet.

The students are sponsored by the Nameoki Women's Club. They will receive instruction from the SIUC music staff in music theory, appreciation and history, in addition to instrument playing.

Test new soybean varieties

By RON CORNWELL
U of I Extension Adviser

The soybean variety test plots for Madison County this year are on the Richard Bauer Farm near Granite City. This year's plot included nine varieties. Two of these varieties are new for the first time this year.

The new varieties are Woodworth and Pamona. Other varieties include Calland, Williams, Wayne, Dure, Clark 63, Bonas and Cutler 71.

Entomologists report finding a new type of flea beetle in a few bottomland corn fields in central and southern Illinois this spring.

The beetle is small and is shiny black. The front of the head is red. These beetles feed between the leaf veins and causes a skeletonized effect. Damage apparently has been serious, according to the corn reports received. For lack of a better name, it has been called the red-headed flea beetle.

To control the beetle, use one pound of actual Carbarin (Sevin) or one and one half pounds of actual toxaphene per acre applied as a spray over the row. If the field is weedy, apply the spray on a broadcast basis.

Bad blight in soybeans is a disease which is caused by the tobacco ringspot virus. It is spread from weed host plants such as dandelion, wild carrot, ragweed and horseweed to the soybean plant by thrips, grasshoppers and other insects. Because of the high thrip population in southern Illinois this spring, there may be a higher incidence of this disease.

Humanities Council aids senior citizens' dialogue

The Illinois Humanities Council this week announced the award of a grant of $1,480 to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for a project headed by Professor Jules Zanger, entitled "The Revolution: Old and New—A Dialogue with Senior Citizens."

Announcement of the award was made at Champaign by Marvin L. Vawter, executive director of the Illinois Humanities Council.

"The grant will help sponsor the series of weekly meetings with senior citizens, faculty members and government officials reflecting on:

(1) The basic socio-political as well as moral concept which generated the American experience of the last two hundred years.

(2) "The ways in which those concepts are visible in society today as compared and contrasted with American life throughout the twentieth century; and (3) "Forecasts for the ways these concepts will fare in the last quarter of this century—and beyond," Dr. Vawter said.

90 Quad-Cityans at convention

Ninety members of the Granite City Chapter of Jehovah's Witnesses were among 11,044 persons who assembled at the State Fair grandstand in Springfield this week for the final session of the "Divine Sovereignty" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The speaker was D. C. Trumbore of New York and the topic was "One World, One Government, Under God's Sovereignty."

Trumbore said mankind today is not "one world, one government but is splintered into individual nationalistic governments with self-interest prevailing."

Trumbore's speech stressed danger of extinction demands that the human family be drawn together in peace. But, he said, "one world" under "one government" is possible only when God is the sovereign ruler. The lecture was the highlight of the Springfield convention.

The Belleville Agronomy Field Day will be held Thursday, July 17, at the Belleville Research Center near Scott Air Base in St. Clair County. The tour starts at 8:30 a.m.

This year's tour will cover grass control for no-till corn, soybean weed control, soybean varieties, no-till soybeans in corn stubble, wild garlic in wheat, what's new in corn breeding, insect control in field and forage crops, corn fertility and corn weed control.

Full schedule next week for Mississippi River Festival

The D. W. Griffith classic movie "Intolerance" will kick off the third week of the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Following the Monday, July 14, showing of the movie at the Festival site will be Tuesday evening, July 15, performance of Muddy Waters, with special guest Luther Allison.

On Wednesday night, July 16, Gordon Lightfoot will perform. And the Chamber Music Series will present a special Beethoven program on Thursday night, July 17, in the geodesic dome room of the campus Religious Center.

Ray McKinley, Ray Eberle and Paula Kelly and the Modernaires will present a special night of Glenn Miller music Friday night, July 18. And on Saturday night, July 19, the week will close with the Crusaders and Michael Urbanik's Fusion presenting their interpretations of modern jazz.

"Intolerance," released in 1916, is considered an epic portrayal of injustice through the ages.

The movie intercuts four separate episodes depicting modern injustice. Shown are the downfall of ancient Babylon, the persecution of Catholics in 16th Century France, the intolerance of the Pharisees and the crucifixion at Calvary.

Starring Lillian Gish, Mae Marsh, Robert Harron, Miriam Cooper and others, the film remains today a glowing portrayal of injustice; it has often been hailed by critics as one of the most influential silent films ever made.

Muddy Waters, appearing on July 15, is one of the premier greats of country music blues. Waters started in Rolling Fork, Miss., moved to Chicago early in his career, and has maintained his status as one of the best in the blues for 20 years.

Appearing with Waters will be Luther Allison, described by critics as "one of the most exciting performers in today's music."

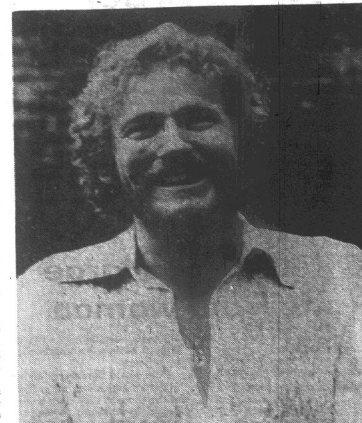

Allison is known for his guitar work, compared favorably by critics with that of the late rock performer Jimi Hendrix. Gordon Lightfoot (July 16) has had a number of major hits, including the recent "Lonesome Highway" and "Sunshine." His easy rock-style music appeals to a wide variety of tastes.

Glenn Miller fans report that the Modernaires sound is just as excellent today as it was with Glenn Miller in 1939.

It was with Miller that the group recorded such hits as "Juke Box Saturday Night," "Chattanooga Choo-Choo," "Kalamazoo" and "Sun Valley Serenade."

The famous four, Paula Kelly, John Guarnieri Jr., Tommy Traynor and Ron Perry, will be appearing with Ray McKinley and his orchestra and vocalist Ray Eberle.

Eberle joined the Miller orchestra in 1938 and remained with it until its disbanding. McKinley became the leader of the orchestra when Miller's "Chain Reaction" just being released, reflects their growth over the years from straight jazz performance to their current mix of music that blends their jazz style with various forms of today's popular sounds.

Urbanik, together with wife Ursula Dudziak on vocals, was voted jazz man of the year in Europe in 1973.

The couple has moved to the United States and rapidly become one of the top jazz draws in the country.

Fusion, with Urbanik at the helm, brings together jazz, rock, classical and folk into a complete whole.

Dudziak's voice, which becomes another instrument meshing with the music of the rest of the group, adds a distinctly individual context to the group's performance, critics say.

Granite City acting to remedy unrepaired sanitary sewer breaks and to prevent future collapses from occurring

The mayor, City Council and Community Resources Commission deserve commendation for their efforts to begin tackling the massive problem of collapsing sanitary sewers in Granite City.

After a study by the 14-member commission, aldermen gave official approval this week to make a start on a new inspection and maintenance-repair program intended to avoid the impossible-to-finance total replacement of water-logged sewers.

Sverdrup and Parcel and Associates, named to follow up on data developed through televised detection of leaks and potential leaks, outlines the basic dilemma as follows:

"Sanitary sewers in the Namecki area have had a history of failures since 1961 after a rising water table started submerging some of the deeper sewers."

"With passing time and further rising of the ground water, failures have increased in number. Approximately one-third of the Namecki area has sewers subject to potential failure."

"It is imperative that immediate action be taken to reduce infiltration of ground water to a minimum, to decrease the probability of future failures."

Forty-three sewer breaks have been recorded in the past two years, some being repaired and others not.

Corrective steps have included local repairs of broken pipes, and abandonment of sections of failed sewers with construction of new sewers at a higher elevation, combined with lift stations and new service connections.

Other measures have been replacement of failed sewers in place with vitrified clay pipe encased in concrete, similar replacements with truss pipe of plastic pipe, and pressure-grouting of sewer lines.

Extensive diverting of well points or a series of individual wells was required for spot repairs and sewer replacements, and some spot dewatering was necessary in other instances. Bypass pumping of sewage from one manhole to another was needed to isolate trouble areas while repairs or replacements were completed.

Pumping to bypass sewage around several trouble areas is continuing until repairs or replacements can be accomplished.

Inconvenience for both residents and motorists has been enormous, and the cost has turned municipal black ink to red, both in the 1973-75 period and on some previous occasions.

Granite City spent $853,067 in 1962 to repair six sewer breaks. In 1969, rehabilitation involving 15 breaks cost $1,465,883 — not including sewer repair and bypass pumping costs incurred by the street department. Starting in 1973, more than $1,700,000 has been expended.

Advantages of the approach that is about to be implemented are that it is geared to solutions at a price tag that, while large, is attractive when compared to the possible $10 million cost of installing new sewers in the areas where lines are now under water.

Flow monitoring will be used to locate sources of infiltration. Sections regarded as suspect will be cleaned if necessary and then televised to determine the condition of the pipe. They are to be grouted promptly where appropriate, or scheduled for other rehabilitation work over the next five years.

At this point it is clearly unfortunate that sewers were put in a generation ago at the levels chosen and with joints not designed to be water-tight. But the severe problem that has developed must be dealt with, and it is good to see that elected officials, citizen-taxpayers and engineering authorities are giving their attention to devising an effective and affordable remedy.

Ford growing with the job

By VIRGIL PINKLEY

In less than a year since he entered the White House, President Gerald R. Ford has acquired impressive knowledge and confidence.

His progress has been so rapid that politicians of both parties now feel he will be a strong candidate in the fall of 1976.

Some men who pass through the doors of the White House grow and develop steadily. Harry Truman was this kind of a president. Assuming the duties of that high office seems to change the attitudes of the chief executives if they are of the growth variety.

Unfortunately this did not prove to be the case with Lyndon Baines Johnson or Richard M. Nixon. John F. Kennedy was in the White House for too short a period to know what kind of a president he might eventually have become. Certainly in his first two years in office he stumbled, and then regained his balance.

Few men have ever inherited the problems and crises of Gerald R. Ford, including the Watergate mess and all of the attending scandals.

When he entered the White House our unemployment rate was going up steadily and we had galloping inflation of something like 15 or 16 per cent annually. Interest rates were at an all-time high. The nation faced the worst economic crisis since the Great Depression. Recession was rampant. This has been lessened.

There was the aftermath of the Vietnam War and an almost constantly threatened war in the Middle East.

Our whole economy was staggering under the blows and aftereffects of the Arab oil embargo, and Middle East oil prices had increased by as much as 600 per cent.

Almost immediately after

Mr. Ford became President, Congress took a tough stance on many issues. Members of Congress said they would wield the club at home and abroad in the future. They had all powers they lost all during the Kennedy-Johnson-Nixon administrations. This decline in congressional power had been, in fact, during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Many in the Republican Party were against Mr. Ford, especially the extreme right wing. For a man who was not elected to the office of presidency and who has led the nation for only 10 months, Mr. Ford has some significant achievements to his credit.

He made a mistake in granting Nixon a pardon as he has wisely taken some of the autonomy away from Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. He is dealing directly with more heads of state.

In fact, some foreign governments have not known previously exactly what authority Kissinger has and whether commitments he might make to them carry the same weight as those made by the President.

The Constitution provides that the president is the chief policymaker in foreign matters. All during his eight years that Dwight D. Eisenhower was in the White House, Kissinger's policies were executed by John Foster Dulles. When Dulles went abroad there was never a day that he failed to report to President Eisenhower directly by telephone or cable. Every speech that Dulles made was approved in advance by Eisenhower. While it looked as if the late secretary of state really was running our foreign policy on many issues, Kissinger was doing so only with the consent and full knowledge of Eisenhower.

Mr. Ford eliminated the country after the end of the South Vietnamese war and the resignation of Nixon.

He has worked himself into a position where former California Gov. Ronald Reagan is about the only man in the GOP who can give him any opposition for the Republican nomination. Everybody now knows that the President of the United States is and basically what his policies are. He has gone a long way toward reestablishing the credibility of the presidency. In an amazingly short time Mr. Ford has become a world figure.

Parents favor separate universities

To the Editor:

Sen. Sam Vandalabene and Rep. Horace Calvo are certainly to be commended for their outstanding efforts in securing passage, in the General Assembly, of the separation of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The Parents Association of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has gone on record as being very much in favor of this legislation.

We feel that it makes sense to have our own and separate governing body at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, just as it makes sense for each state of the union to have its own governing body or each city its own government.

We sincerely and strongly urge Gov. Dan Walker to sign this bill.

Displeased with smoke and vibration

To the Editor:

I am a tax payer of Granite City and have complained about industry before. I will keep complaining until something is done about it.

One industry not only pollutes the air with red smoke and causes a lot of vibration, but also has coke at East 20th and Omaha Streets which is scattered all over the ground by the tracks.

This washes down the sewers when it rains, and clogs them up.

This company should be fined heavily for each violation. There is no excuse for this.

Improvement in schedule of picnics

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the organizers of the Jaycees picnic in Granite City. This was the first year in some time that their picnic didn't fall on the second weekend of June.

The people of St. Mary's Church appreciate this change and hope the Jaycees picnic will be scheduled this way in years to come. It seems that we are only having each other's profits by buying our annual picnic on the same weekend every year. Our crowd was larger this year. I am sure that the Jaycees had an increase in their crowd, also.

Haller kept county government solvent

Wood River Journal—Counters of the term regarded individuals could not have had in mind Gov. J. Edgar Hoover as a model when they put the words together, but it was an apt description of this extraordinary citizen.

Few present-day citizens of the Wood River-Alton area have any idea of the extent to which the stable economy of the community could be traced to his service as head of the county government for a national record of 30 years.

With only a modest formal education, he developed a competent grasp of the fiscal affairs of the county as its appropriations grew to the million-dollar figure.

Of this, he would say, he had learned to count and his watch word was "stay in the black" — a policy difficult to achieve through the years of depression, wars and growing inflation.

His adherence to sound business with the respect of the industrial leaders who invested capital in their plants in the County, the Olms, Levises, D. U. C. A. S., A. K. I. N. S., Nevelinghauses and others, are examples.

On one occasion, their firms bought a quarter-million dollars of debenture bonds which lacked approval of bonding attorneys, and thus could find no other market.

Their sole assurance was Haller's integrity, and he saw to it that the bonds were paid off on schedule.

Certainly a non-conformist, Haller clung to the tenets and principles of Wood River's pioneer days and continued to refer to "Standard Oil" and "Western Cartridge," ignoring the change in titles to Amoco and Olin Corp.

His homely dialogue and methods of being re-elected chairman often invoked satire from intellectual media critics. This attacked him very little, for he understood the words. And political success universally is accomplished at all levels, from the Presidency down, by the same means.

During his incumbency, constituents came to hate down with their problems, and always were accorded a kindly reception. In the decade since his retirement, these visitors became fewer and fewer.

This again held to the political tradition which has become axiomatic.

Exceptions to this occasion were weekly visits by his colleague of pioneer Standard Oil days, Joseph Barr, father of a circuit judge, and Jimmy Todaro, a long-time admirer. Contact came to him in the late years of his 91-year life, after the death of Mrs. Haller, in the presence and devotion of their two daughters, Veronica and Virginia.

His was a good life.

Uniform assessing bill a big state accomplishment

By MAURICE W. SCOTT
Executive Vice President
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

With 4,600 bills and numerous resolutions behind them, members of the 1975 session of the 79th Illinois General Assembly have departed for home.

Having considered this trackload of legislation, the lawmakers of this legislative session go down in history as the hardest working legislators in the past 25 years.

For the past three months, they have been meeting night and day, both in committee and on the floor, analyzing and weighing the merits of the many, many proposals.

What are the results of this session? Not bad, from these standpoints:

(1) No state tax increases in the income tax, sales tax and related taxes that bring revenue into the general fund.

(2) H.B. 360, the most important property tax bill in recent years, is now on the governor's desk.

This bill establishes the assessment and equalization level of property at 33-1/3 per cent (law now says 30 per cent), and the courts are insisting that for 1975 and future years the law be followed.

The problem is that the levels of assessment and equalization among the counties range from 18 to 44 per cent, 68 counties being under 33-1/3 per cent, 32 counties over 33-1/3 per cent (16 being right around 33 per cent, three over 40 per cent and Cook County at 53-1/3 per cent).

The bill gives all counties three years to reach the 33-1/3 per cent level. The low counties will come up to 33-1/3 per cent in three years and the high counties will retain 1974

Answers on ozone sought

By FRANK MACOMBER

Scientists have been arguing for years over the extent to which man-made chemicals are diminishing the ozone which protects earthlings from overloads of the sun's radiation.

Now a couple of U.S. spacecraft have been assigned to look for the answer. One already is in earth orbit; the other will be launched in November.

In more technical terms, ozone is a protective shield of supercharged oxygen that acts as a buffer against ultraviolet radiation directly bombarding earth.

Three years ago a group of scientists convinced Congress a fleet of supersonic airliners systematically could pierce the ozone full of holes or otherwise diminish its effectiveness as a shield and warned the result might be widespread skin cancer among humans.

Congress later killed the U.S. supersonic transport program.

Now another group of scientists is warning that widespread use of aerosol sprays also could cause deterioration of the ozone. The state of Oregon has banned their use in commercial products beginning in 1977.

So now two of NASA's satellites may be cast in the strange role of arbiters in the growing dispute between the scientific community and industry.

Nimbus-6, by far the most sophisticated weather satellite launched so far by the United States, was hurled into earth orbit June 12 from the Pacific Missile Range. Two of its missions are to test new and improved earth and atmosphere observation instruments in near-earth orbit.

Just as ozone is a gaseous shield in the upper atmosphere, solar radiation is the source of all life on earth. Yet without ozone to protect earth from the sun's rays, solar radiation could become a killer.

Nimbus-6, built by General Electric, will be followed in November by Atmosphere Explorer-E (AE-E), an RCA-built satellite equipped with a new sensor to aid scientists in their investigations into the impact of pollutants on ozone levels.

Accurate data on the amounts of solar radiation received by earth never has been available to scientists before. An earth radiation budget experiment (ERB) aboard Nimbus-6 will measure the planet's intake and outflow of solar energy.

Scientists believe this will help them measure regional and worldwide heat distribution, along with the intensity of radiation with feedback from sun to earth.

Another experiment using Nimbus-6's radiance inversion radiometer will measure ozone density distribution in the atmosphere. Never before has ozone been measured on a global scale.

Nimbus ozone measurements will be used to provide a data base against which future readings can be evaluated, to supply the first indication of whether the world's ozone shield is deteriorating, as some scientists claim.

Nimbus-6, a butterfly-shaped spacecraft weighing 1,323 pounds, was launched into near-polar, 800-mile-high circular orbit. The Nimbus environmental satellite program started back in 1964 to test new and improved earth and atmosphere observation instruments in near-earth orbit.

Auto makers attempt to outguess Congress

The American automobile industry has begun to listen even more closely to the sound of a noisier drum — the U.S. Congress.

Auto makers for the last three years have been playing a game of second-guessing with Congress as it ground out legislation aimed at curbing exhaust emissions, pollution and then turned more emphasis on improved gasoline mileage in the wake of the energy crisis.

Now, for the Ford Motor Co. at least — and others are sure to follow suit — the second-guessing has paid off, it appears.

Just about the time the House of Representatives voted to encourage production of fuel-efficient cars by fining auto makers for gas-guzzlers instead of awarding them tax breaks, Ford sprang a surprise through its sales group vice president, John B. Neugebauer.

He said Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers are ready to sell eight new high-mileage "MPG" cars certified by the government at 34 miles per gallon in highway dynamometer tests, MPG of 30 or more in city miles per gallon.

There are three new Pinto, two Mercury Bobcat and three Mustang models. "These cars deliver fuel economy equal to or better than any other domestic car with standard equipment, according to the results of federal government tests," Neugebauer claims.

"The only domestic competitors rated as high as or higher than ours require either an optional engine or an optional transmission — priced extra to the customer."

The MPG models in all three car lines have been rated at 34 miles per gallon in Environmental Protection Agency tests on the highway and 33 m.p.g. in the city, according to Neugebauer. That's a mile per gallon better than the Volkswagen Beetle for both highway and city tests.

Neugebauer is cautious, however, about claiming such high mileage for the average motorist.

"You must remember," he says, "that the federal tests are conducted on machines called dynamometers, under carefully controlled laboratory conditions."

"Whether a car buyer actually gets these government-certified mileages depends on a lot of things — how many energy-consuming options he puts on his car, weather and road conditions and, importantly, how the driver himself drives his (or her) car."

"Whether a car buyer actually gets these government-certified mileages depends on a lot of things — how many energy-consuming options he puts on his car, weather and road conditions and, importantly, how the driver himself drives his (or her) car."

For example, during "real world" fuel economy tests involving actual driving conditions in Florida and California, a 1975 Mercury Bobcat achieved the highest mileage of any American-built car — 28.4 m.p.g. in the so-called interstate test, 27.3 in the suburban test and 26.6 m.p.g. in the city tests.

Obviously, those figures are on a scale that is imprecise than the ones called out during the government's dynamometer trials. However, the government tests involved manual shift cars.

"Even with automatic transmission, the MPG models are government rated at 33 m.p.g. on the highway and 32 m.p.g. in the city," Neugebauer says.

Kolis-Townsend nuptials at Mount Zion Baptist

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Patricia Marie Townsend and Kevin Kolis in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Jack Smith on June 21 at the Mount Zion Baptist Church.

Lighted candles in crystal hurricane lamps, arranged with ferns and bouquets of daisies, provided the setting for the 4 o'clock afternoon service.

Miss Beth Leubetter played "Time in a Bottle" and "We've Only Just Begun" for the soloist, Dolores Reins.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Townsend, Rural Route Two, Granite City.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kolis of Rural Route Two, Lebanon, Ill.

Mr. Townsend escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She chose a white organza gown, full length, enhanced with Chantilly lace at the high neckline and applied on the long tapered sleeves.

Her bouffant bell-shaped skirt extended into a chapel train, bordered with wide Chantilly lace ruffles.

A organza bow, embellished with seed pearls, secured a lace-trimmed mantilla veil and she held an arrangement of white daisies and green foliage tied with long white streamers.

The groom's sister, Judy Smith, was honor attendant. The bridesmaids were Rhonda Schilling and Joann Townsend, a sister of the bride.

They wore identical daisies in pale blue, orchid and pink, designed with V-necklines, at the back and front of the fitted bodices and long puffed sleeves.

A white sash accented the waistlines was tied in the back and white lace edged ruffled flounces on the full skirts.

Each attendant wore a white picture hat and held a colonial basket filled with white daisies and ribbons in hues to match her attire.

Marcee Williams and Dawn Hicks, nieces of the bride and groom, served as flower girls. Their frocks, in pink and blue, were made in similar style to the bridesmaids' dresses. Both carried white baskets of rose petals.

Tony Leffler was the ringbearer.

The groom chose Thomas Townsend, a brother of the bride, as best man.

Groomsmen and ushers included Edward Friday and Wayne Williams and Perry Townsend, the bride's brother-in-law and brother, respectively.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Townsend chose an A-line gown of celery green polyester, with white accessories.

The groom's mother selected a peach colored full-length dress, with pastel beige accessories. Both wore corsages of daisies.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall after the service. Kathy Schilling registered the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolis, parents of the groom, served dinner to the wedding party following the rehearsal.

The former Miss Townsend is a graduate of Granite City High School North. Her husband is employed as a maintenance man by St. Louis Shipbuilders Co. He was graduated from O'Fallon Township High School.

First Baptist scene of Laughlin-Allen wedding

Bouquets of pink roses decorated the altar at the First Baptist Church of Granite City for the wedding of Miss Christine Marie Allen and Stuart Ray Laughlin.

The Rev. Marvin Peters officiated at the double ring service at 7 o'clock on the evening of June 21.

Mrs. Cheryl Dietl, the soloist, sang "Sunrise, Sunset," "We've Only Just Begun" and the Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Jewel Everett.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Allen, 101 Warsaw Lane. Her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Laughlin, live at 5340 Lakeview Drive.

The bride gown chosen by the former Miss Allen was created of organza and designed with shepherdess sleeves, capped from the shoulder to mid-elbow with Chantilly lace and gathered into deep lace cuffs.

The bodice of embossed lace was fashioned with a high stand-up lace collar and a deep yoke, covered with a sheer overlay and traced by a narrow lace ruffle.

Her cathedral veil of illusion mist, made by the bridegroom's mother, was bordered with wide Chantilly lace and caught to a filigree lace crown. She carried a colonial arrangement of pink roses and baby's breath with satin streamers.

Miss Lynette Whittington was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Donna Laughlin, sister of the groom, and Miss Cheryl Davis.

All the attendants were long gowns of pink polyester crepe, accented with floral designs in deeper shades of pink. The bodices had high-rise waists, wedding ring collars and puff sleeves. The skirt hems were encircled with a ruffled flounce.

Each wore a matching pink hat and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations, festooned with ribbons. The honor maid's bouquet was centered with a cluster of pink roses.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Stan Laughlin, as best man. Groomsmen were Steve and James Laughlin, both cousins of the bridegroom.

Seating the guests were David Walters and Bill Laughlin, both cousins of the bridegroom. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents the previous evening at the same location.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School North. Her husband, a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School South, is a student at Lewis and Clark Community College and is employed by Speedy Janitorial Service.

After a wedding trip to Patterson, Mo., the newlyweds are now at home at 5204 Lakeview Drive.

Miss Lynette Whittington was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Donna Laughlin, sister of the groom, and Miss Cheryl Davis.

All the attendants were long gowns of pink polyester crepe, accented with floral designs in deeper shades of pink. The bodices had high-rise waists, wedding ring collars and puff sleeves. The skirt hems were encircled with a ruffled flounce.

Each wore a matching pink hat and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations, festooned with ribbons. The honor maid's bouquet was centered with a cluster of pink roses.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Stan Laughlin, as best man. Groomsmen were Steve and James Laughlin, both cousins of the bridegroom.

Seating the guests were David Walters and Bill Laughlin, both cousins of the bridegroom. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents the previous evening at the same location.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School North. Her husband, a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School South, is a student at Lewis and Clark Community College and is employed by Speedy Janitorial Service.

Bouquets of pink roses decorated the altar at the First Baptist Church of Granite City for the wedding of Miss Christine Marie Allen and Stuart Ray Laughlin.

The Rev. Marvin Peters officiated at the double ring service at 7 o'clock on the evening of June 21.

Mrs. Cheryl Dietl, the soloist, sang "Sunrise, Sunset," "We've Only Just Begun" and the Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Jewel Everett.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Allen, 101 Warsaw Lane. Her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Laughlin, live at 5340 Lakeview Drive.

The bride gown chosen by the former Miss Allen was created of organza and designed with shepherdess sleeves, capped from the shoulder to mid-elbow with Chantilly lace and gathered into deep lace cuffs.

The bodice of embossed lace was fashioned with a high stand-up lace collar and a deep yoke, covered with a sheer overlay and traced by a narrow lace ruffle.

Linda Noud becomes Mrs. Kevin Stroyeck

Miss Linda Catherine Noud and Kevin Roy Stroyeck exchanged vows in an afternoon ceremony on June 28 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Edwardsville.

The Rev. Ted Turanski officiated at the double ceremony at 2 o'clock.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Noud of Edwardsville, formerly of the Quad-Cities. The groom is the son of Roy A. Stroyeck of Edwardsville, and Mrs. Shirley Raver of Springfield, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of ivory silk organza over peau de soie, designed and made by her mother. The empire bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and long fitted sleeves.

Lace encircled the skirt and bordered the cathedral-length train. Lace motifs, embellished with ivory pearls, accented the bodice, sleeves and cathedral veil of imported illusion. A pearl encrusted Juliet cap secured her veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of ivory roses, stephanotis and baby's breath with ivory velvet streamers.

Miss Barbara Noud, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She selected a long gown of violet chiffon designed with a V-neckline, empire waist and sheer caplet sleeves. She wore a purple picture hat trimmed in purple velvet ribbon and streamers, accented with purple statice.

The bridesmaids were Linda Triebes, Alice Grebel, Pat Schuster, Kathy Stroyeck, sister of the groom, and Cathy White, the bride's cousin.

The bridegroom chose Don Tank as his best man. Groomsmen were Dave Triebes, Mike Bitter, Steve Grobowski, Mel Talbott and Mike Soper. Alan Ogilvie and Jim McKenzie seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Noud selected a full-length gown of yellow chiffon, with a scooped neckline and empire waist, accented with beads, and matching accessories.

The groom's mother chose a long yellow gown made with a pleated skirt and separate jacket, accented with rhinestones, and harmonizing accessories.

The bride graduated from Edwardsville High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a bachelor of arts degree in psychology.

Also an Edwardsville High graduate, the bridegroom attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and graduated from SIUE with a degree in government.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held after the ceremony at the Alton Moose Lodge.

The couple will make their home at Pensacola, Fla., where the groom was assigned Tuesday to the U. S. Navy's Air Flight Officers' Candidate School. The bride is a grand-daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Noud of Madison.

Ethnic groups to be part of Bicentennial

The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) has formed the National Bicentennial Ethnic-Racial Alliance (NBERA) to encourage and recognize efforts to commemorate the nation's 200th anniversary.

NBERA membership is open to all non-profit, non-governmental organizations whose primary purpose is to conduct sustained programs encompassing the plurality, variety and diversity of the American society and which reflect the contributions and involvement of its people both individually and collectively. To join the Alliance, ethnic, racial and cultural organizations must:

(1) Initiate a program which increases opportunities for Bicentennial participation within the membership and with those from other lands where possible.

(2) Communicate Bicentennial planning generally and that of the Alliance on a national, state and local level.

(3) Stimulate ethnic-racial group involvement in cooperation with other community organizations and Bicentennial agencies.

Members of the NBERA may use the national Bicentennial symbol in connection with projects approved by their national organization.

The ARBA also sponsors a Bicentennial Communities Program, a Bicentennial College and Universities Campus Program, an Armed Forces Bicentennial Installation Program, a National Bicentennial Service Alliance and a Bicentennial Hospitality Alliance to recognize grassroots commitment in support of the Bicentennial commemoration.

Seek office space for defense unit

Cong. Melvin Price (D-3rd Ill.) has reported that the Department of the Army is seeking to lease 66,000 square feet of administrative space for the St. Louis Defense Contract Administration Services Region.

DCASR is one of 11 primary level field activities under the direct control of the Defense Supply Agency, Cong. Price explained. The St. Louis office provides technical surveillance and staff support responsibility for contract administration services in a 10-state area, including the St. Louis metropolitan area.

St. Louis CASR offices will be consolidated under the Army's new request to the General Services Administration with the entire facility placed under the terms of one lease. Estimated annual user charges will be $475,600 for the offices which employ 350 men and women.

The original lease will insure a work area for five years and any further period requested by the Department of the Army. The request will be studied by the House Committee on Armed Services, of which Cong. Price is chairman. Final action on the request is expected at the end of the month.

IN RESCUE EFFORT
Marine Private Jeffrey E. Larner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Larner, Rural Route Two, Granite City, participated in efforts to rescue the crew of the U.S. merchant ship Mayaguez. He was one of more than 200 Marines who landed on Kom Tang Island off the coast of Cambodia, where the vessel was being held. Larner serves with the 2d Battalion, 9th Marine Regiment, on Okinawa.

Fruits may be canned without sugar

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Extension Advisor-
Home Economics

Can fruits be canned without sugar? Yes, they can, but remember that sugar does more than just sweeten canned fruits. Sugar also contributes to the texture and color. So don't expect fruits canned without sugar to have the same characteristics of good texture, flavor, and color as those canned with sugar.

But fruits canned with out sugar may be a good addition to the food supply of those who must limit sugar in their diets. Directions for canning without sugar are the same as for regular canning except that sugar isn't added. The processing time is the same, and the finished well-sealed product will keep as well as if sugar had been added. If artificial sweeteners are used, be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions.

Can you make jams and jellies without sugar? No, it's almost impossible to make a typical jam or jelly at home without sugar. In order to make a characteristic jelled or thickened product, four ingredients are necessary in correct proportion. These are fruit, sugar, pectin, and acid.

Without sugar, a jelly will not set. Thickened artificially sweetened jam-like products are available commercially because manufacturers can use special additives such as gums. But similar products are different to make at home.

Manufacturers of artificial sweeteners sometimes have recipes for making fruit spreads with some of the characteristics of a jam or jelly. Write them for directions, don't experiment.

Can vegetables be canned without salt? Yes, they can. In the proportions commonly used for canning vegetables, salt is used for flavor—it doesn't contribute to the keeping quality. Follow the regular processing directions, but omit the salt. The finished product may have the typical "flat" taste of unsalted food, but texture, flavor, and color will be no different from the canned vegetable with salt added.

TO MARY BALDWIN
Miss Leslie Taylor Cockerham, daughter of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. S. G. Cockerham, Quarters 4, Granite City Army Installation, will be a freshman at Mary Baldwin College this fall. The Virginia liberal arts college for women will begin its 19th session on Sept. 5. Miss Cockerham is a graduate of St. Elizabeth Academy in St. Louis.

Year-long Bicentennial program at 1st National

First Granite City National Bank will sponsor a year-long bicentennial program known as Heritage Highlights. It was announced today by Paul H. Lichtenberger, bank chairman.

"The program is a distinguished series of historical highlights about the events—both large and small—that have shaped national destiny," he explained.

Heritage Highlights are appearing as a weekly series in the Granite City Press-Record.

The program also is produced for radio in a series of one-minute historical vignettes narrated by Bob Barton and will be heard regularly throughout the year over local radio stations.

"We expect the Heritage series to aid in promoting local interest in the Bicentennial, as well as contribute to a positive resurgence of patriotic spirit and a rebinding of pride in national heritage, throughout our community," Lichtenberger said.

Using the Heritage Highlights series as a springboard, the local bank intends to sponsor several special promotions during the bicentennial year. Tentative plans include an essay contest and poster contest to be held during the school year. A special event of particular interest will be a "second" signing of the Declaration of Independence planned for June 1976.

"The special events are planned and scheduled to gather momentum throughout the year toward a peak of enthusiasm next July Fourth," Lichtenberger said, adding, "We expect our program to be only the first of many cooperative, community-wide efforts in the commemoration of the Bicentennial."

Heritage Highlights is a syndicated program of Heritage America, a division of Davis-Newman, Inc.

Records essential if audit is ordered

Some day, you may receive a letter that begins:

"Dear Taxpayer: We are examining your federal income tax return."

Over the years, millions of taxpayers have received letters that start like this from the Internal Revenue Service. In some cases, where only a few items on a return are in question, the IRS may only ask the taxpayer to mail to an IRS office copies of records or evidence to support the items.

Secure your letter, however, requests that you take the papers to the IRS. Whether an IRS letter asks a taxpayer to send in documents for a correspondence audit, or to come into the office for an audit, the reason a return is selected for examination is generally the same.

All income tax returns filed by individuals and small corporations are subjected to a mathematical checking system, called the Discriminant Function (DF). As the returns are processed by computers in IRS Service Centers across the country.

The Discriminant Function system assigns numeric weights to certain return characteristics and identifies those returns with a high probability of error.

These weights are developed from the examination of thousands of returns over the years and are kept up-to-date by modifications reflecting examination results.

Returns with high DF scores are considered most in need of audit. These returns are then studied by trained IRS employees. They decide if local conditions or other factors created a high DF score on a return that otherwise wouldn't need an audit.

If they believe that a return should be audited, they usually select particular items on the return that they feel should be questioned.

And how do you prepare for a tax audit, now that you know how your return was probably selected?

Your first step is to carefully read the IRS letter and any attachments or enclosures that come with it. You'll probably notice some blue-colored slips of paper enclosed in the envelope. Called "Information Guidelines," these slips detail the records or evidence needed for the issues mentioned in the letter.

The IRS may also enclose additional notices for questions about: other taxes you deducted, interest expenses, moving expenses, casualty losses, and so on.

Next step: Gather together what you believe is needed.

If you have any questions, call the IRS office at the number listed in your letter, so that you'll be taking along the right things.

You may wish to ask the IRS to send you a free copy of Publication 358, Audit, Returns, Appeals, Rights, and Claims for Refund.

As you go through your records and find some missing, quickly call or write the people who have them and ask for copies.

Should you think that it will take more time to secure the missing records than you have until your appointment, estimate when you will be getting the records and ask the IRS for an appointment shortly after the date you expect the records.

There are just one or two more suggestions: Read through the return's schedule to be audited, so that you can answer any other questions that may develop during your interview, and think over any questions you may have about keeping records.

Many times, tax auditors view an examination not just as a means of verifying correct payment of taxes, but also as an opportunity to help taxpayers understand their tax responsibilities.

Frequently, individuals with small businesses have found their first audit helped them in other audits over the years.

There's one other thing you may want to keep in mind when you prepare for your examination. You can have someone represent you or testify for you at an audit.

Attorneys, certified public accountants and others who are qualified to practice before the IRS may, under most circumstances, represent you at the audit if they prepared your return and signed it as the preparer.

Any of these persons may represent you in your absence, providing they have some written authorization from you.

It's unlikely that you'll ever get an audit letter with eager anticipation, but knowing how to prepare for an audit and making it a practice to keep good records—can enable you to await such a meeting with the IRS with reasonable confidence.

DEWATERING OPERATIONS at the Broadway underpass in Venice got under way Tuesday to permit excavations for installation of drainage facilities for the relocation of Broadway. A high underground water table made the dewatering process necessary at an additional contract price of more than $300,000, and resulted in a lengthy delay in the road project. Broadway will be extended beneath the overpass to connect with Federal Aid Route 151 (The Great River Road) when it is opened next year from Granite City to Venice.

Law funds loans to avoid foreclosures

On June 27, Congress passed a compromise Emergency Housing Bill, H.R. 3386, to replace the previous bill, which the President later vetoed.

Although not as comprehensive as the original bill, the new law, signed by the President July 2, is regarded as potentially meaningful in helping to meet some of the current housing needs.

The law makes low-cost loans available to jobless homeowners delinquent on their mortgages and extends the Emergency Home Purchase Assistance Act of 1974, the Urban Rehabilitation Loan program and the deadline for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program.

Under Title I of the law, the federal government will make loans of up to $250 a month for two years to jobless homeowners unable to meet mortgage payments or to insure their homes if they did not foreclose on delinquent mortgages.

The loans will be repaid at an interest rate to be set at not over eight per cent. No new mortgage payments will be available after July 1, 1978.

To qualify, the unemployed or underemployed homeowner will have to be delinquent on at least two months' mortgage payments and have received notification of intent to foreclose from the holder of the mortgage.

It is possible that as many as 300,000 families nationwide could benefit from this provision, if present trends continue, it is estimated.

The new law also extends the Emergency Home Purchase Assistance Act of 1974 to July 1, 1978, with authorization for the government to buy up to $10 billion in mortgages for low-cost homes.

Information on the loans is available through savings and loan associations and banks. The loans carry a maximum of 7.5 per cent interest with charges and fees limited to 4 points.

The third section of the Emergency Housing Bill extends the urban rehabilitation loan program, providing $100 million for low-interest loans to families repairing and improving their homes.

Finally, the measure extends the June 30 deadline for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program until Dec. 31, 1975.

Park District excursion to Kansas City is July 25-27

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a weekend excursion to the Greater Kansas City Area July 25 through July 27, it was announced this week.

Among the places to be visited are the Starlight Open Air Theater, where a presentation of the Danny Thomas Show will be seen on Saturday evening, and the Harry S. Truman Library in Independence, Mo., where visitors may see a replica of President Truman's Oval Office, complete with the carpeting and desk he used while serving as the nation's 35th chief executive.

Park prices are $22 plus lodging, which varies from $6.75 to $10 per night, depending upon the number of people in the party. These prices include transportation and admission to the theater and library.

Other places of interest in the area where visits may be made include the Worlds of Fun Amusement Park, the Nelson Art Gallery, and River View, a restored section of the riverfront area containing numerous shops and stores.

Reservations are subject to cancellation by 3 p.m. Monday, July 21, by the Park District should a full bus not be secured. Reservations may be made by paying for the trip at the Granite City Park District Office, Benton and Oregon streets. Further information may be obtained by calling the district office, 877-3059.

Deaths, births decline during first 6 months

A total of 72 births occurred in the Quad-City area during June, a decrease of five below a total of 77 births in May, according to a vital statistics report released by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

The report listed 30 deaths during June, up one from 29 during May, and no fetal deaths during June. There was one fetal in May.

Marriages during June brought to 457 the total for the first six months of this year, compared to 523 during the same period last year.

The 30 deaths during June brought that total to 215 for the first half of 1975, compared with 241 during the same period in 1974.

A total of five fetal deaths during the six months of this year is a per cent reduction below the 1974 total of 10 for the period.

Postal closings just rumor—Price

Cong. Melvin Price (D-23rd Ill.) has announced the United States Postal Service has informed him that there are no immediate plans to close third and fourth class post offices in Southern Illinois.

At the same time, Cong. Price voiced his concern about the assumptions underlying a recent General Accounting Office report entitled "8100 Million Could Be Saved Annually In Postal Operations In Rural America Without Affecting The Quality Of Service," which recommended the closing of 12,000 small post offices across the country.

"There has been a great deal of public concern about the GAO report," said Price. The report was commissioned to examine ways the Postal Service could trim costs. It recommended that the small post offices could be closed if adequate means of community service could be maintained.

"In actuality there was no intimation that thousands of offices would suddenly be closed, and no individual offices were identified. While the report did recommend that legislation be passed to make it easier for the service to close small post offices, such an action would require Congressional approval."

"The Postal Service is now under very strict guidelines as to what it must consider before closing a post office," said Cong. Price. "First, no action can be taken until there is a vacancy in the postmastership of a local office, and the office serves fewer than 25 families."

"Then a proposal to close the office must go through three separate levels of review on an individual, case by case basis. This review includes a detailed investigation of the opinions and needs of the postal patrons, and a guarantee that there will be no loss of service."

Various reports and rumors have suggested that the following local post offices may be closed. They include East Carondelet, Summerfield, St. Libory, Lenzburg, Shiloh, Smithton, Hecker, Marine, Alhambra, New Douglas, Livingston, Moro and Worden.

"These rumors are just that," said Price. "The Postal Service has informed me that no such action is presently contemplated in St. Clair and Madison Counties."

Cong. Price realizes that while some of the points raised in the GAO report may prompt further study, many of the assumptions behind the report will be closely scrutinized before Congress will allow a change in the current guidelines.

"I feel that in some areas, the report has simply given short shift to many very real local concerns," he said. In a letter to the Postmaster General, Price noted, "In many cases these post offices are the focal point, the identity, of the community. Many have been in existence over a century and the physical plant itself is a historic timepiece."

"Often these offices are the sole banking facility in a town. To remove the services the post office provides would be a great hardship on all residents, but especially on the elderly who are physically unable to commute regularly to distant towns."

"In other cases, the future as well as history argues against the proposed action. Southern Illinois is essentially an underdeveloped area at present, but all demographic studies identify it as one of the fastest growing areas in the country. To close the post offices in these communities can only retard the development of business and industry in these towns."

"The report, if implemented, would save the Postal Service $100 million. The Postal Service deficit last year was $2.3 billion. Such a small percentage saving is simply not worth the high intangible cost of service that would be lost."

Picnic, Mancini, fireworks Sunday

"The Great American Picnic" special will be a part of the Sunday, July 13, appearance of Henry Mancini at the Mississippi River Festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville.

The evening of festivities, food and famous Mancini music will start at 5 p.m. Sunday and will include everything from a special picnic basket menu to a "Fantastic" fireworks finale after the Mancini concert.

"It's a special evening," reports Vicky Holt, concert manager for the MRF.

"Our Food Service is preparing the special 'All-American' picnic basket, and we will have the Garver's Trio singing from the Edwardsville area (currently appearing at Six Flags) as well as clowns, St. Flagg characters, the Choklin Indian dancers, marching bands, hot air balloons and ragtime music.

The night of festivities is expected to be especially attractive to families.

Mrs. Holt comments, "To make sure families can afford the fun, a special admission price of $1.50 for children under 12 has been set. General admission for the concert is $3.

Eleanor Alexander, Festival food service director, adds, "This Great American Picnic basket should handle any appetite."

The basket will sell for $3.95 and is available only during the special evening of festivities preceding the Mancini concert.

But the food will be just a small part of the fun. All the pre-concert activities will culminate when Henry Mancini begins to conduct the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in an evening of Mancini music.

Mancini, winner of 18 Grammy awards, three Oscars and a host of other awards and gold records, will lead the Symphony through such favorites as "Moon River," "Breakfast at Tiffany's," "The Pink Panther," "Days of Wine and Roses," themes from "Mr. Lucky" and "Peter Gunn," and many more.

To top the all-American evening, Jerry Walker of Sunset Fireworks will present a fireworks display that has according to MRF Managing Director Lyle Ward, "been getting greater every year."

"Each year it seems he outdoes the year before," said Ward. "He puts on a great show. At one point last year, he had the whole sky lit up."

The good music, good food and good company should make for a good time, and that is what summer, Mancini and picnics are all about," Ward concludes.

Retiring from river channel job

Retiring after more than 48 years of active service and called back for an additional six months of temporary duty—Carl E. Barron, head of channel maintenance for the St. Louis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

He has served the Corps in varied capacities, ranging from deckhand and inspector to construction superintendent and head of channel maintenance.

Barron served two six-month periods of temporary duty for the Engineer Corps in Alaska in 1955 and 1956.

After World War II, he assisted in recruiting personnel for civil works in the South Pacific.

During his long career, Barron has been cited several times for "sustained superior performance" and has received many awards for safety and management suggestions adopted by the Corps.

"Carl's ability to work with people, to take prompt action in emergency situations, and handle the many complex technical aspects of his assignments, mean he will be missed," Col. Thorwald R. Peterson, district engineer, commented Monday.

Barron, 68, was born in Potomac, Mo., and was educated in St. Louis at Soldan High School.

He has completed a number of management courses sponsored by the Corps of Engineers.

After working for the Corps since 1930, Barron will continue to reside in St. Louis with his wife, Mary. They have one son, four daughters and 17 grandchildren.

Operation Identification underway by Venice police

"Operation Identification," an anti-theft campaign, has been initiated in Venice.

Residents of the city may call the police department 877-2114 and ask to participate in the program. An appointment will be made and Pam Henry, Paula Smith or Sandra Young will go to the home and mark valuable items.

Using an electric engraving pencil, the girls mark on such items as bicycles, radios, tools, television sets, cameras, tools, guns, tape players the owner's driver license number which can be traced in a manner of minutes by police.

If the person does not have a driver's license, the social security number can be used; but federal restriction hampers effective use of the Social Security number.

A window decal discourages thieves by serving notice that the items have been marked. If items are stolen, the number engraved would be direct evidence against theft and such items would be difficult to trade or sell.

There is no charge for the service.

Residents of Granite City and Madison also may contact their departments for information on "Operation Identification."

GERALD BROWN has been appointed administrative assistant-personnel by the Granite City Board of Education. He formerly was assistant principal of North High School and has been an employee of the school district since 1961.

Bicentennial programs funded by Arts Council

The Illinois Arts Council has approved a budget of $2,225,489, the largest in its 10-year history.

Chairman Bruce Sagan announced that the Arts Council will receive its largest state appropriation of $1,278,400 and $201,549 from federal sources, with the balance of the funds to be raised from private sponsors.

The Council approved a pilot program to help creative artists: $50,000 over the next two years has been designated to help institutions with permanent collections to purchase work by Illinois artists on a dollar-for-dollar match. The mechanics of the program will be worked out over the next few months with artists and art organizations which may participate.

In other action, the Council approved $42,000 for a five-city Bicentennial tour of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. The Symphony, under the direction of Erich Leinsdorf, with John Browning pianist, will perform in Springfield Sept. 22, Decatur Sept. 23, Normal Sept. 24, Charleston Sept. 25 and Champaign-Urbana Sept. 27.

Other Bicentennial programs approved at a meeting held in Chicago included $25,000 for a statewide tour of American plays by professional Illinois theater companies. Performances will be available to communities throughout the state. Grants of $5,000 relating to the Council's Bicentennial celebration of Illinois architecture were awarded.

Already envisioned one of the best Bicentennial projects in the country, the architectural celebration will have a centrally-located information center from which programs will reach out statewide.

Other grants included $30,000 for this summer's Mississippi River Festival held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, $48,000 to Urban Gateways to continue its six-country metropolitan program and $30,000 to Ravinia for its summer multi-arts program.

Academy Festival Theater was awarded $10,000 for production costs for the 1975 season and $800 was awarded to the New American Theater in Rockford for its summer performances in the park.

In addition, the Arts Council approved $43,000 to provide 18 weeks of dance throughout the state by national dance companies as part of the National Endowment for the Arts dance touring program.

Dr. J. R. Vasiloff attends convention

Dr. J. R. Vasiloff of Granite City was one of over 350 Doctors of Chiropractic in attendance at the Logan College of Chiropractic's annual Alumni Convention held in St. Louis.

The convention is the largest annual gathering of chiropractors in the area and affords each doctor the opportunity to avail himself of the latest research and discoveries in the chiropractic field.

All the doctors attended two days of special educational seminars sponsored by the college, fulfilling the requirements for state license renewal. In all, over a thousand doctors, assistants and chiropractic students attended the convention.

Some Day ...
Own Your Own Home.

GO AHEAD, DREAM about that new house you and your family will have some day, about all the ways you'll make it your own. Clip out house plan sketches and put them in your "someday" file, and visit model homes every now and then to keep your dreams alive.

But don't just dream. Begin now to lay the groundwork that's needed for a home of your own. Come in and talk it over with us, and we'll show you how you can make these dreams come true—by setting up a savings program to get you started, by explaining the process of buying or building a house, and by being helpful in any way we can. You see, we believe in helping people, and if we can help you get started along the road to home ownership, we'll welcome the opportunity.
